

Chairman Named For County, City In Chest Campaign Drive

General Chairman V. Alfred Etheridge has announced the names of those who will serve as chairmen of the county and city divisions of the forthcoming Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County Community Chest campaign which will run from October 22 through November 2. The goal this year is $60,000.

Heading the county division will be R. Bradshaw Pulley, who served in a similar capacity for the 1955 drive. Rhea Adams has been named to head the overall drive within the City of Virginia Beach. Both division chairmen are Virginia Beach Businessmen. This year's goal is twice the amount of last year's drive and the increase is due, in large measure, to the inclusion of the American Red Cross in the drive this year for the first time.

At a meeting of key leaders of the Chest held last week, Etheridge warned of the need for getting much of the contacting of business firms accomplished before the actual dates of the drive.

Following the appointments of Pulley and Adams, it was announced that Leo Houty would serve as chairman of the business division for the City of Virginia Beach and that Mrs. Paul B. Macrest would again head the residential section of the city's drive.

Pulley announced that George Parker had accepted the chairmanship of the business division for the county.

Pulley indicated that he would announce other chairmen within a few days.

The local Community Chest supporters, in addition to the American Red Cross, the following agencies: American Cancer Society, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Florence Crittenton Home, King's Daughters, United Fund of Virginia, Youth's Activities, American Hearing Society, and the American Social Hygiene Association.

Officers of the local Chest are: Alvin R. Malhotra, president; Lewis E. Smith, vice-president; and E. W. Smith, secretary-treasurer.

Slow Driving At Night Is Urged As Safety Precaution

"Drive right, slow down at night"

In these words, Chief of Police Reeves E. Johnson today emphasized the necessity of reducing speed at night. Chief Johnson spoke on behalf of the current safety-after-dark program of the Virginia Beach Police Department and the Governor's Highway Safety Committee. "Darkness reduces visibility, so the distance you can see at night is greatly limited," Chief Johnson said. "A good rule is to travel at a speed that is slow enough to enable you to stop within the distance covered by your headlights beam."

Even when traveling at a lowered speed, the driver is still in greater danger of an accident at night than in the daytime, so he must increase his vigilance, Chief Johnson said. He especially cautioned drivers to watch out for pedestrians dressed in dark clothing and for vehicles with dim lights or no lights at all.

"Be sure your own lights are in good condition," he warned. "Make it a habit to turn on your driving lights at the first hint of dark, and always use them properly. Use the upper beam only on rural highways when no approaching car is within 1,000 feet. Dim your lights even though an oncoming driver fails to dim his."

It's also important that all parts of your car be in top condition. Because danger is much closer before you can see it in the darkness, night driving makes sure mechanical response a must, Chief Johnson said. Here are a few more do's and don'ts the Chief mentioned: Be sure your lights are turned on before you pull onto a thoroughfare at night. Don't wear tinted glasses at night. Never stop on the traveled portion of the highway at night; pull completely off the road, leaving parking and dome lights on. If you must have full headlights on, dim them. It's also a good idea to have your directional light flashers. Carry flares for use in emergencies. All of these precautions help to let other drivers know you're stopped.

"And remember," Johnson said, "the most important rule of all is: 'Be your brother's keeper.'"

Beach Baptists Vote Plans For $240,000 Plant

The congregation of the First Baptist Church of Virginia Beach has voted to undertake a $240,000 building project. It was disclosed today by Dr. W. G. Bond, the pastor.

Plans call for the erection of an additional educational building unit and a new church sanctuary. Before that is undertaken, however, the congregation this fall will attempt to reduce the church's present indebtedness by $15,000, Dr. Bond said.

The educational building will follow this campaign, with the sanctuary to come later.

Dr. John Huss, pastor of the Southside Baptist Church in Spartanburg, S. C., will conduct a revival at the church October 22-28, Dr. Bond also announced.

Chief Bayne Gives Tips On Fire Prevention

Baby Sitter Instructions

Do you give any specific instructions to your baby sitter before you go out? You should say Fire Chief E. B. Bayne.

"Too many folks are apt to forget that they are turning over a tremendous responsibility to someone when they hire a baby sitter," he said.

"You must depend on a baby sitter to take your own place as a guardian of your children's lives and well-being, and the safety of your home," Chief Bayne said, and he recommended giving these basic instructions to every baby sitter:

1. Point out two or more ways of escaping from any part of the house with the children.
2. Get the children out of the house the instant smoke or gas is smelled.
3. How to call the fire department by the nearest fire alarm box and or neighbor's telephone.
4. How and where to reach the parents, doctor, police, for any possible emergency.

The smart parent, says the Chief, always writes, tells, and shows the baby sitter to make sure his fire emergency instructions are understood.

The collection platform atop the forecastle, or "ship's bow," is loaded with various recording instruments. The readings were especially important because fallout is now one of the principal hazards with which civil defense must contend. Newport News Hands P.A. Cavaliers Third Grid Loss; Victors Outgained In Statistics

Local Tally In Final Period

The Princess Anne High School Cavaliers ran into a strong, powerful running game last Friday and went down before the Newport News Typhoons, 25 to 6, on the victor's home field.

The contest was the season opener for Newport News and was played before 3,000 partisan fans on the peninsula.

Newport News' first score came on a 75-yard march early in the game with team Captain Shipley Weitz going the last 18 yards from his fullback position on a run around the right end. The try for extra point by Don Hardy was low.

After the Cavalier's attack had stalled at their own 47, David Jones took the punt on the Typhoon 18 and roared down the sidelines to the Princess Anne 35 for a 47 yard runback.

Two plays later, after Newport News had lost a yard, Weitz burst through the left side of the line and sprinted 36 yards to his second score of the quarter. Again the extra point try was low.

The Typhoon didn't score again until the second play of the final period when quarterback Bucky Keller fired a 25-yard pass to Jerry Grosen, who was stopped on the four. On the next play Alvin Marshall bucked over and Hardy converted to give Newport News a 19-0 lead.

The Typhoon made it 25-0 when Keller's who intercepted Stan Fisher, pass on the Princess Anne 40 and took it back to the 23, connected with Grosen for a 15-yard scoring pass.

Princess Anne, with time rapidly running out, started its scoring drive from its own 35.

It looked as though Ralph Wetherington would get credit for the Cavalier's score when he plunked over from the one. However, his team was offside on the play and the ball was put back to the six yard line. Herman McLendon then hit the line and made up for the 1:17 yardage on the play. Darden breasting then took a hand-off from Wetherington and fourth down and Princess Anne had its score.

19-9 and 206-116, respectively. Princess Anne led the Typhoon in yards rushing and first downs. Score by periods:

Princess Anne scoring: Touchdown—D. Breittling.

Newport News Scoring: Touchdown—Weitz 2 (15, run; 36, Marshall (4, plunge). Grosen 1 pass-run from Keller. (passing—Hardy (placement).

Cannoneers and Commodores
A trip to Maryland is slated for the Third Anti-Aircraft Artillery Group. Fort Story Cannoneers this weekend as they take on the Belvidere Naval Base Commodores.

On the Navy team's last meeting with a group from this area, they topped Fort Story's Wheel 36-19. The Cannoneers defeated Fort Monmouth but have lost to Fort Lee and Little Creek Naval Amphibious Base so far this season.

Expected to be standouts are quarterback John McAnery and end Edw. Pezant who completed a 40 yard scoring pass play in the final 45 seconds of the contest against Buxton and fullback Howard Kelly, who also accounted for some of the Commodore scoring. Injuries plagued the Cannoneers last week at Little Creek, but their offense, sparked by the combination of quarterback Kenneth Wilder and fullback Jimmy Pace, is expected to give a good account of itself. Tackles Henry Bullough and Jean De Groot are expected to bolster the defensive lineup.

Last Saturday, the Cannoneers were unable to halt the combination of former Vanderbilt standouts Billy Holmes and Charlie Horlitz. The Little Creek Amphibious

Five Crops a Year

A major pharmaceutical firm, Eli Lilly and Co., has announced development of a chemical, gibberellic acid, which the firm's scientists say can speed the rate of plant growth by five times.

The acid, still undergoing research, has stimulated growth in field crops such as wheat, oats, clover, legumes, corn and tobacco, as well as vegetables, flowers shrubs and trees.

This may cause a revolution in farming and gardening. A suburbanite, instead of waiting 20 years for a shadow lawn, could plant trees, and by use of the chemical have good shade in about four years.

Late-summer flowers might be blooming in early spring. Early spring flowers, presumably, might bloom in time for Christmas.

Such a chemical could result in land producing four or five crops a year, instead of one or two. Although increased food production is not what this country needs most at the moment, it could be a great boon to countries with too little land for food production.

But in the United States at present such a boost in output would merely result in more surplus crops going into storage and more farm land going into "soil bank" reserves.

Use this HOME FIRE SAFETY CHECK LIST to Safeguard Your Home Today

How Fire Safe is Your Home? The best way to find out is to take this check list home and ask the whole family to gather round to study the questions and check for fire hazards. Some questions Dad can answer best—others, Mom knows more about—but together, as a family, you can work out the answers. If any of the questions asked don't apply to your home... just cross them out. All the questions listed can be answered "Yes" or "No". Each question answered "NO" points to a fire hazard. Study the "No" answers. There you will have a good picture of the fire hazards in your home. Then your family, working together, can take immediate steps to correct the hazards found.

FT. STORY

Superduck Confab

FORT STORY — A high level three day evaluation conference on the Army's new amphibious Superduck — under test at Fort Story since mid-August — was to close at the Detroit Arsenal September 28. Colonel George E. Woods, Fort Story commander, attended.

He had returned September 21 from a two-week inspection trip to the Arctic where he accompanied Major General Rush B. Lincoln Jr., commanding general of the Army Transportation Training Command, and a number of other key training command officers. The Detroit conference had followed on the heels of a similar meeting held at Fort Story earlier this month with industrial and military leaders from all over the country. Superduck, a changed version of the World War II DUKW amphibious truck, has about 100 more days of testing to undergo here.

In the Arctic, Woods had visited northern supply operations conducted this summer by more than 3,500 Army Transportation Corps troops from Fort Story and Fort Eustis. The party approached within 400 miles of the North Pole on the inspection trip.

Most of the Fort Eustis soldiers have returned from the northern operations in which they engaged, but only about 50 Fort Story men — all DUKW drivers participating in western operations are back. The remainder are engaged in eastern supply missions.

Of his observations on the trip Lincoln said, "Our troops look, act and work like soldiers. We have every reason here in the Transportation Training Command to be proud."

Woods remarked that morale was generally high among the Virginia based soldiers. He singled out Fort Story's BARC platoon for special praise. The BARC's, 100-ton automotive amphibious barges that can carry their weight in cargo, are operating at Frobisher Bay, Baffin Island, Canada. The four Fort Story based BARC's are the only operational vehicles of their kind.

Superduck is presently undergoing tests to indicate its transportability aboard Navy LST's. Fort Story, site of most of the Army's amphibious truck training, conducted all the amphibious instruction for the Transportation Corps' part in NS72-E, 572-W and Support Unit, North East Command.

Gop Worried Over Maine Demo Voting

Washington, Sept. —How big is the Democratic trend? Political reporters returning to the United States from trips around the country agree almost unanimously—that there is a strong swing toward the Democratic Party.

Worried Republican strategists have admitted privately to reporters that they are deeply concerned. The Party's record-breaking victory in Maine, recent opinion polls, registration figures and the comparative vote in key primaries all confirm the existence of a genuine trend toward the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket.

Muskie Makes History
The Maine vote is, on the basis of past elections, a potent augury. Edmund S. Muskie is the first Democratic Governor since the Civil War to be re-elected by Maine in the year of a Presidential contest. Frank M. Coffin is the first Democratic Congressman elected since 1934, and a second House seat may be won by James C. Oliver in a recount of an extremely close race.

Analysis of the figures by James A. Finnegan, Stevenson-Kefauver Campaign Manager, points to an across-the-board Democratic victory in November. Republicans have never won the White House unless they carried Maine in November by 60% or more of the total vote. Finnegan has pointed out.

A Statistical Omen
"This year the GOP got only 51.5% of the Congressional vote," he said, "and the record shows the GOP Maine Presidential vote in November always is less than the Congressional vote in September. This lag has ranged from 1 to 18 points."

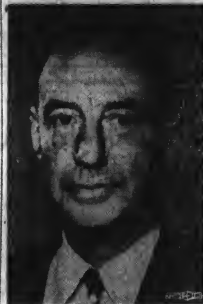

Pat M. Butler, Democratic National Chairman, said the Maine election showed that "victory can be won through hard work by many, many Democrats." That many are working has been indicated in primary returns, polls and registration figures all over the country.

Jolt to GOP in Washington
Republicans now have the jitters, for example, over the State of Washington. General Eisenhower carried it in '52. This year, Republicans hoped to repeat that victory, and to pick up a Senate seat as well by running Gov. Arthur B. Langlie, keyholder, of the 1956 Republican convention. But in this month's Senatorial primary, which turned into a pure popularity contest, since there was only one candidate in each party, Democratic Senator Warren G. Magnuson polled a staggering 69% of the vote.

In Minnesota, Democratic-Farmer-Laborites gained an eyelash lead over Republicans in the primary vote for Governor.

Iowa Farmers Switching
The Des Moines Register poll gives Iowa to Eisenhower by 45% to 37%, but reports that farmers are favoring the Democratic ticket by 41 to 37. This is a switch from 1952, when Iowa farmers preferred General Eisenhower.

In South Dakota, a newspaper poll shows that half of the farmers who voted for Ike last time do not intend to support him in

Adlai E. Stevenson

Democratic strategists point out that a general pickup in the farm vote for Stevenson-Kefauver would assure a Democratic victory in States like New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois.

The presence of the popular Senator Kefauver on the ticket is widely regarded in Washington as enhancing the likelihood of such a switch.

Brothers Elected Head Highway Users Group

J. David Brothers was elected president of the Virginia Highway Users Association, at the organization's 26th annual convention at Roanoke September 20-22.

Brothers had held the office of first vice-president since 1952 and was extremely active in all of the affairs of the trucking industry in Virginia. He succeeded J. H. Cochrane of Richmond.

During his years of service to the association Brothers has been responsible for conducting several trucking industry studies which highlighted the importance of motor trucks to the economic life and general welfare of the State of Virginia. The results of these studies have been published throughout the State and Nation.

He is president of New Dixie Lines, Inc. of Richmond and is a partner in Brook Run Scale Co. and a director of Wilhoite Motor Lines.

Nationally Known Speaker
Dr. John O. Christianson of the University of Minnesota was the feature banquet speaker, replacing Senator Harry F. Byrd who was forced to cancel due to the illness of Mrs. Byrd.

Dr. Christianson is superintendent of the Minnesota School Agriculture at St. Paul and is director of Agricultural Short Courses. For several years he has been active as a speaker before large civic organizations, business and farm groups, educators and other professional organizations.

He frequently is engaged by General Motors to address management meetings and, as in this instance, is sponsored by that organization as a speaker before its groups.

Dr. Christianson is an exponent of the philosophy that the best solution for most of our national problems is for citizens to accept the challenge to actively participate in local affairs as to build a stronger political, economic, social and spiritual foundation for life in their communities.

Safety Was Convention Theme

Much interest centered in a panel discussion on the safety of commercial vehicles on the highways and streets. Participating were Col. C. W. Woods, Jr., superintendent, Department of State Police, Kenneth M. Russell, assistant director of the public relations department of American Trucking Associations, M. A. Shipley, safety director, Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association, Burton E. Holcomb, safety director, O'Brien Tank Lines and Marion Saunders, editor The Danville Register.

In a safety contest, the lowest accident frequency per 100,000 miles of travel, the Timlaph of Richmond received the grand trophy.

This company's fifteen vehicles traveled 600,715 miles without an accident. The contest was conducted for its members by the association with the assistance of American Trucking Associations and Trailmobile, Inc.

Contestants were divided into five groups to put competition on an equitable basis. The winner in each group received a plaque for display plus a scotchite sign for each vehicle operated and a wallet size merit card for each driver. Timlaph won in the petroleum carrier group.

Among household goods carriers first place went to Security Storage & Van Co. of Norfolk which operated 19 vehicles 304,528 miles with an accident frequency of 1.64 per 100,000 miles.

Bonhake-Webster Brick Co. was first among private carriers with no accidents in operating 39 vehicles 243,947 miles.

Bristow Lines of Richmond was first among common and contract carriers operating under two million miles, with 38 vehicles going 145,898 miles with 0.67 accidents per 100,000 miles.

McCoy Carriers of Norfolk operated 215 vehicles 7,333,339 miles with an accident frequency of 0.47 to take first honors among common and contract carriers traveling over two million miles.

Meat animals slaughtered under Federal inspection and examined for cleanliness and wholesomeness currently number about 100 million annually.

Here Today!

FROM A NEW INNER CAR PROVED IN ACTION

came the magic that made possible so wonderfully different a Ford. In the toughest on-the-road tests ever given to a car, this "Inner Ford" demonstrated that a '57 Ford rides who sweet and low... that it takes the bumps with-out a bobble, the curves without the pitch... and, that in power, it "takes nothing from nobody!" Nothing on wheels hurries, handles or holds up like a Ford!

A new kind of FORD with the mark of tomorrow

Lowest family car on the road

Only four feet eight inches tall

Everywhere you look it has the "Touch of Tomorrow"

Six or V-8 the going is great!

You're in for a thrill when you see this new knockout named Ford! But save your superlatives till you drive it! That's where the fun really starts.

It's fun just knowing that others who see you wish they were you. For you're commanding the longest, lowest, heaviest, biggest car ever to sport such a low price tag. There's head room to spare for a new fall bonnet... stretch-out space for a "Daddy Longlegs."

You'll find that the tough and ready new "Inner Ford" is built to take the roughest road you'll care to travel. New outboard rear springs and ball-joint front suspension let Ford take the turns without the tilt. New swept-back control arms help take bounce out of bumps.

Best of all, Ford's library-like quiet is built in. And the new "Inner Ford" is why. For never before in Ford's field has there been a body with so much extra bracing, so firmly anchored to its foundation. And you can choose from three big Silver Anniversary V-8's with up to 245 horsepower. There's also a new Mileage Maker Six with 144 horsepower, the most modern Six in the industry.

You can pick your Ford tailored to your desires and your budget, too! Choose from nine over-17-foot Fairlane or Fairlane 500 models or from five over-16-foot Custom or Custom 300 models. Or take your pick from Ford's five longer, lower, new station wagons. Whichever model you select, you'll get a car that's been re-invented from the wheels up!

So there's the new kind of Ford. Big! Gracious! Spacious! A luxury car true—but one that any new-car buyer can easily afford. Come in! See what wonder-cars you can buy now at low Ford prices.

What does it mean to Pray?
It certainly does not mean God is a corporation in which we have great blocks of stock. Prayer does not mean going to God to get him on our side. The phrase did not get very near to God by bragging about his religious life. We live the good life for the good that comes from it not to have to hold over someone else in a superior attitude. Telling God, who already knows, about his program of righteousness did not make him more conscious of God but more aware of himself.

Prayer means waiting on God who comes in his own way to the penitent heart. The publican was right in expressing his unworthiness. "God be merciful to me a sinner." Prayer is self exaltation but coming to God, seeking his presence and his will. God will come to the person who is willing to receive him. Self must be examined, sins must be confessed, faith must be exercised in the goodness of God, and man must be the supplicant.

Comebody's Neighbor

He probably doesn't look much like the man next door. He does his arithmetic with the aid of a centuries-old gadget called the abacus, and he writes the results in characters that would be quite undecipherable to you... yet you probably have far more in common with him than you'd ever dream.

Like you, he wants peace. Like you, he wants a good future for his children, and he wants them to have more than he has had. Like you, he has experienced happiness and sorrow, love and disillusionment. Like you, he prays.

On World Wide Communion-Sunday, he will be going to Church and, though this may seem a bit odd to you, he will be praying for you. Yes... for you, and for everyone else in the world, friend or enemy.

Why not join him? Why not, on World Wide Communion Sunday, go to your own church and include him... him and everyone else... in your prayers.

Pray for peace, too. Remember, the power of prayer is a wonderful thing... especially when it is given many voices.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

PROTECTIVE MILK TEST UNDERWAY IN MINNESOTA

The first clinical test of the "protective milk" theory of immunization is now underway in Minnesota.

Milk drinkers throughout the nation have watched with interest ever since the theory that antibodies in milk can protect against certain ailments was advanced by University of Minnesota dairy researchers.

In the current clinical test, 80 residents in the Minnesota-Delaware area, all known to have been infected by hay fever induced by ragweed, are cooperating. The test will be to see if ragweed pollen injected into cows' udders will be passed on in the form of antibodies in the milk, and if these antibodies will combat ragweed pollen in the bloodstream.

American Dairy Association research funds have been put to use in the development of this program.

Mechanics of the test are that one group of 40 people will drink one quart of the "protective milk" each day for four or five days and a pint daily for the rest of the hay fever season—or until symptoms disappear. The other group of 40 people will continue on normal diets.

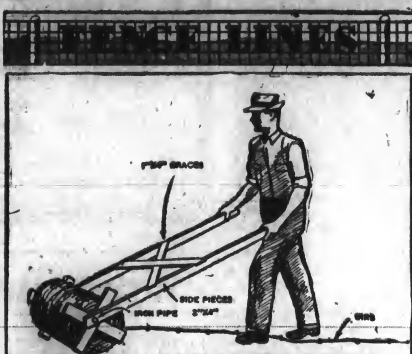

FREQUENCY OF FEEDING SEEMINGLY AFFECTS GAINS

Nibblers in the livestock world—those fed frequently throughout the day—may make better gains than those fed only twice daily.

Early results on feeding tests indicate dairy heifers fed 10 times daily, on the same amount of feed.

There are two groups of six heifers each in the VPI test. The study was set up to cover two 50-day feeding periods. At the end of the first 50-day period the 10-times-a-day groups had made an average daily gain of 1.06 pounds, while the animals fed twice daily had gained 0.27 pounds per head daily.

There are some unanswered questions. The effect of feeding several times daily on milk production is not known. And it may be that feeding five times per day will give about the same results as feeding ten times per day.

SAFE AND EASY . . . You can safely remove barbed wire when working alone. All that is required are two 2 by 4-in. handles joined together with an "X" brace and drilled at one end for a pipe axle which passes through the spool of wire.

In similar tests in North Carolina, heifers fed, four times daily made greater body weight gains than when they were given the same amount of feed once daily.

And in an English study, sheep fed eight times a day gained nearly five times as much as those fed only once daily—again on the same amount of feed.

If further tests bear out the results so far much more attention will be given to frequency of feeding in future nutritional work; and past feed tests will have to be interpreted in the light of the new knowledge. It should be fairly simple to design automatic feeders which would feed livestock at periodic intervals.

GRINDING HAY WITH COW RATION BAD BUSINESS

If you're grinding hay with cow rations you're making a serious mistake.

So says Dr. William S. Griffith, assistant dairy specialist at VPI. He explained that grinding actually lowers the value of the hay, mainly because ground hay moves through the cow's digestive system too fast.

Tests have shown that the fat test of milk drops sharply when grinding hay with cow ration.

Some plants cannot stand the bright sun of midsummer. This is particularly true of shrubs and other plants which live naturally in forest shade, such as holly, magnolia, dogwood, and azalea.

In the dry seasons, plants must be watered thoroughly. Merely to sprinkle the ground a plant until the surface is wet is not enough. It is usually helpful to build a circular dike of soil around a shrub or tree, creating a basin which can be filled with water 3 or 4 inches deep. Make the dike as large as the spread of the branches.

Inexperienced gardeners often apply too much commercial fertilizer, which results in foliage scorching and, sometimes, death of the plants. A simple rule of thumb is to remember that a broadcast application of 1,000 pounds per acre, which a farmer would think of as a fairly heavy application of a high analysis fertilizer, converts to a little over 2 pounds per 100 square feet. To go much over this rate at any one application incurs the risk of plant injury, especially during dry weather. Where excessive fertilizer has been applied, water the ground abundantly until the excess has been leached away from the root zone.

Gas injury can be caused by the accumulation of commercial gas in the soil from leaking mains, etc. Gas companies are equipped to test for such leaks. Injuries from gas are ordinarily found only in trees along curbs. A valuable tree that has been injured by gas often can be saved by pumping compressed air into the soil around the roots to flush out the gas, followed by fertilization and heavy watering. Dying limbs should be removed.

Fungal or other infection of the parts of the plant (stems and roots) in contact with the soil can sometimes be verified by uncovering the bases of stems down to the point from which lateral roots issue. Decayed areas (cracks) or galls in that zone may account for above-ground symptoms. A true root rot usually causes a rapid dying of the top of the plant.

FIRST 'SOUPED UP' FUEL OIL IN TIDEWATER

The idea of "Rocket 303" pre-treatment of household fuel oil to provide less active heating and trouble-free operation of heating equipment is the newest advance in oil heating in 30 years. It's development makes possible an average saving of 20% in home heating cost.

"Rocket 303" was developed by one of the country's oldest compounders of fuel oil and boiler room chemicals in the industry. It is designed to very substantially increase the efficiency and economy of fuel oil heating through such factors as more complete combustion, cleaner smoother burning, and soot free furnaces.

GETTING UP NIGHTS

It's getting to be a habit with many of the people who are staying at the Colony Restaurant, to get up at night and go to the beach for a walk. The Colony Restaurant is located at the foot of the beach, and is a very convenient place to stay. The Colony Restaurant is a very nice place to stay, and is a very convenient place to stay.

COLONY RESTAURANT

"BEST AT BEACH"

The person who told us your food was the best on the beach knew exactly what they were talking about," so said Esther Jolly, of Salem, Virginia, after a recent meal at the Colony Restaurant on Atlantic Ave. in the Piers Hotel building.

This patron's remark is typical of many who have discovered the enjoyment and fine food to be had at the Colony. (ADV.)

FORD NEWS

DEARBORN, MICH. — For the first time in its 33-year history, Ford Motor Company is producing two sizes of Ford cars, the company has announced. The 1957 models were unveiled in Ford dealers Wednesday morning and they have the highest performance engines ever offered in the low price field.

R. S. McNamara, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager, said the 1957 Ford "represents the biggest change in the modern history of the Ford car."

The new Ford line divides into two basic sizes, Fairlane and Custom, plus the station wagon series, each with its own body and chassis. In addition, the Fairlane series has been expanded to offer "Fairlane 500" models, which have extra luxury features.

The 1957 Fairlane and Fairlane 500 series are nine inches longer and four inches lower than last year's comparable models. Custom and Custom 300 sedans are more than three inches longer and nearly three and one-half inches lower than the 1956 models. Station wagons are three and one-half inches lower and nearly six inches longer. Fairlane and Fairlane 500's are built on a 118-inch wheelbase. Station wagons, Customs and Custom 300's have a 118-inch wheelbase.

"There has been no sacrifice of headroom inside the car, in spite of their reduced height," Mr. McNamara said. "The new frame extends to the sides of the car, and this permits the floor to be lower inside the frame rails."

"The design and styling are new from the ground up. Every dimension is changed. Wheels, frame, rear axle, drive shaft, engine, and every inch of sheet metal in every body style are definite departures from past models," he explained.

Riding ease has been greatly improved by using a longer, wider frame with lower pressure tires on wider tread, and employing redesigned ball-joint suspension in front and outboard-mounted longer leaf springs in back. Because there is more spring length ahead of the rear axle, front end dip on quick stops is checked better than ever before.

"Durability is built into the 1957 Ford through stronger alloy metals, greater use of insulation and sound-deadening materials, longer-wearing fabrics and plastics, and strengthening of mechanical parts," Mr. McNamara pointed out.

For the first time, a high performance V-8 engine, is available as an optional power plant on all Ford cars. The engine called the Thunderbird Special, develops 248 horsepower, and is equipped with a four-barrel low silhouette carburetor.

Standard engine for the Fairlane and station series is the 212 h.p. Thunderbird V-8. A 190 h.p. is standard for the Custom and Custom 300 series. Both have two-barrel carburetors. In addition, the 164 h.p. Milage Maker six available on all models. All engines can be ordered with standard, over-drive or Fordomatic transmissions.

Advanced design of the engine's carburetor, combustion chamber, and exhaust system, plus stepped-up compression, provides increased operating economy in all models. The dry-type air filter, carburetors, intake manifold, intake valves, camshaft, and distributor are the new components which give Ford increased performance.

Ford's new styling starts with wide hooded headlights a forward slanting grille, and includes streamlined wheel covers, a windshield that wraps further around the sides for better visibility, distinctive fins at the rear, and contoured sides that give the car a sculptured look.

"Hardtop" styling is the trademark of the conventional two door and four door series in the Fairlane and Fairlane 500 series. The effect is achieved with thin side pillars. Ford's true pillars "hardtops," the four door and two door Victorias, also are offered in these series.

Station wagons have flatter roof lines, with a contoured slop-down slant back from the windshield. A new lock for the rear window and trunk wrap around the sides to provide 30 per cent more opening for bulky loads. A new latch opens the entire luggage with one pull. And the luggage swings up automatically on concealed torsion bar springs.

Special side moldings and ornamentation distinguish each of Ford's five series, which are available in 18 two-tone paint combinations of 12 solid colors. Inside, upholstery is color-matched to the body's paint.

Ford's pioneering safety features introduced in 1956 have been improved. There is a new safety instrument panel with recessed control knobs clustered under the redesigned deep center steering wheel. Instrument panel and sun visor crash cushions are available, and the safety rear view mirror is continued. Safety door latches have been reinforced to withstand impact. A three and one-half inch shock absorbing area is provided over the steering column by the new safety steering wheel, which is one inch smaller in diameter. It is mounted lower in the best driving position.

Roofs have been strengthened with steel center bows. Hoods are hinged at the front so air will hold them down if they open accidentally. The hood release has been moved to the instrument panel, making the engine compartment tamper-proof when the car is locked. The fresh air intake has been moved to the cowl in front of the windshield so exhaust fumes are not drawn into the car.

For 1957, Ford offers a broad range of optional features including power-operated steering, brakes, seats and windows, as well as air conditioning, tinted glass, and 8-tube radios, and heaters.

The longest, lowest Ford convertible ever made is this 1957 Sunliner which is being introduced along with 18 other completely new Ford body styles. The new Fords will offer a broader range of improved engine performance, with the top power plant being the optional 248 horsepower Thunderbird Special V8. The Sunliner is a member of Ford's new "Fairlane 500" series, which will offer a host of gold-colored anodized aluminum side trim with two-tone paint selections.

The treasurer of the Norfolk and Western, S. P. Chockley, is shown here presenting to State Treasurer Jesse W. Dillon at Richmond a $3,107,376.66 check for this railroad's 1956 taxes on rolling stock, gross transportation receipts and intangibles. This is the largest single tax payment ever made by the N&W to the State of Virginia and one of the largest ever made to the State by any taxpayer.

These tax dollars go into the State's general fund and are withdrawn according to need to help pay for various state government programs designed to benefit all of our people. If used for public education, for example, the $3,107,376.66 is sufficient to provide a full year of schooling to 16,458 young Virginians attending the public schools.

In addition to this state tax, the N&W also pays big tax bills to Virginia cities and counties and to the federal government. Last year's federal income taxes alone amounted to $30½ million, while all taxes amounted to about $44,330,000, more than 21 per cent greater than operating revenues.

The N&W has served Virginia for more than a century, and in addition to this substantial tax contribution for support of state government, the railroad maintains its own right of way.

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and fables... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

Hi! there - how are you? Bet you've been busy getting the children back to school - the older ones off to college and you're ready for a wonderful week-end. I have a very special suggestion - What? "A barbecue round-up", that's it.

Several weeks ago, Norman Brewster sent me a Better Homes and Gardens Barbecue Cook Book and after looking it through, I know you'll want one too. So many folks are enjoying out door cooking these days. It's such a grand way to entertain your friends and for a family week-end party, it's lots of fun.

Mom, you'll be real happy and relaxed too, when you assign a job to Dad and each of the children and friends too. If you are having company, it's even more fun if everyone has a job, easier on you too. Mom, you'll find "recipes" of ideas in this exciting Cook Book - Meat Plans - recipes for Salads, Vegetables - bread - sandwiches, desserts and beverages.

You can use your barbecue fireplace in the backyard or patio, range oven - broiler or rotisserie. I'm going to give you a suggestion or two, from the Book and when you get yours you can have a wonderful time trying out all of the delicious recipes.

I've tried it and it's one of my favorite.

W. T. COOKE PTA NEWS

Willoughby T. Cooke Elementary School this year has a wealth of educational talent in the teaching staff. Principal Emily C. Parks is heading a faculty of 28 this term, seven of whom are serving for the first time at Virginia Beach.

Heading the list of those returning are Miss Louise Hunter (3rd grade) and Miss Madeline Bennett (2nd grade), each with 25 years experience behind them. Others returning who have served W. T. Cooke in prior years include Mrs. Parks in her 8th year, Mrs. Caroline Kennett in her 4th year as Secretary and Mrs. Gertrude Barco in her 11th year as supervisor of the Cafeteria. Also last year's Teachers Mrs. Mary Bradburn and Mrs. Freda Hanström.

The seven new members include 2nd grade Miss Frances Barker; 3rd grade Miss Marjorie Sykes & Mrs. Shara Cherry; 4th grade Mrs. Louella White, Mrs. Margaret Harrell and Mrs. Virginia Meredith; 5th grade Mrs. Ann Lindsey and Elizabeth McClean; 6th grade Miss Katherine Manby, Miss Rebecca Hooper and Mrs. Fille White. Mrs. Orlan Avel of last year's 5th grade is this year serving as School Librarian.

The new members include Miss Phyllis Jones administering Music, 1st grade Teacher Miss Patty Lamm, 2nd grade Mrs. Ruth Hood & Virginia Perkins, 3rd grade Dorita Simpson, 4th grade Peggy Nicolls and 5th grade Nancy Taylor.

The Teachers Reception which followed the October meeting of the P-T-A at the school provided parents who attended the opportunity of becoming acquainted with this very capable group.

This year an extra stress is being placed on the adaptation of the best in teaching method at W. T. Cooke. Very close liaison is being maintained between the P-T-A Executive Council and the school faculty to provide an informative program to parents attending future P-T-A meetings. An example of improved teaching methods is that of the In-Service Educational Program originating from the College of William and Mary. Paid for by the school board and being used for the 4th year at W. T. Cooke, this program provides for monthly visits to the school by professional educators who, after visiting with teachers during class, make recommendations where improvement is possible and point out new methods. Dr. Kenneth Cleton is the program representative to the school this year.

GIRL SCOUTS

By Mrs. Albert Laderberg
Phone 3583M

At this time as your newly appointed Public Relations Chairman for the Virginia Beach Neighborhood of Girl Scouts, I would like very much to welcome back all of our old Troops and extend a special welcome to all of our newly organized Troops and wish you much success for the coming year. With all of the New Troops forming, there is a desperate need for places to hold troop meetings. Especially from 31st North. Please contact Mrs. Paul Dolgins, Neighborhood Chairman Phone 3378 11. Suitable Meeting Places are found.

It has been suggested that we ask whether anyone would like to donate or sell any used Brownie or Girl Scout Uniforms. There are many families that just have old uniforms at regular prices. Bring the uniforms to the Community House on Wednesdays or ask for Mr. Fantone on other days. The phone at the Community House is 1834. Please mark each uniform with your name, address and price you would like for it. The Virginia Beach Girl Scouts are a Red Feather Agency and Urgently request your support for the forthcoming Community Chest Drive on October 22nd.

There are many Girl Scout and Brownie Troops here at the beach who wish to aid other civic or religious organizations in some worthwhile projects. If you would like their services, please contact me. Phone 3583M.

SALE OF DUCK STAMPS IN VIRGINIA WAS INCREASED

According to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior, Virginia hunters purchased 26,379 duck stamps during the last waterfowl season. This is approximately double the number of duck stamps purchased by Virginians some ten years ago, according to I. T. Quinn, Executive Director of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries.

There were a total of 2,389,940 duck stamps sold in the United States last year. Of that number, according to Quinn, 387,035 were sold in the Atlantic flyway states, which is the smallest number sold in any of the flyways in this country.

Polio ...

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis issued a plea here today for volunteer organizations and individuals to assist in accelerating the vaccine education program in an effort to get thousands of additional youngsters and teens protected against paralytic polio.

A spokesman for the National Foundation stated that first inoculations must begin in October or early November if the recommended series correctly spaced are completed before the 57° polio season. "We have the tragic lesson of 1956 in which 85 children and young adults have been stricken to date in the state by paralytic polio," stated a spokesman for the National Foundation. He went on to point out that all these people were eligible for vaccine and 80 of them for free vaccine. "All might have been avoided had the vaccine been used in time," he added.

A total of 155 cases has been reported to date in Virginia with about 70 per cent of them paralytic. No cases had received three shots of vaccine.

The National Foundation urged volunteers to assist by passing out educational materials and by making talks and showing films where groups are gathered. The spokesman stated that such material could be provided by its County Chapters throughout the state.

Churchland Rally Means Defeat for Princess Anne

PRINCESS ANNE — Jesse Evans, a 135-pound freshman back scored on a one yard plunge early in the fourth period as the Churchland Tractors scored a come from behind 13-7 victory over the Princess Anne Cavaliers, before 4,000 at Cox Stadium last Friday night.

Evans and halfback Charles Grant led the Churchland ground attack. It was Evans who took a pass from quarterback Bob Soudel for the extra point following his scoring jab through the stubborn Cavalier forward wall.

The Cavaliers, a Group One school this year, took a 7-0 lead in the second period. The margin afforded by southpaw kicker Bob Causey's successful kick for the PAT stood until the Group Two Tractors began to move late in the game.

After a scoreless first period, the Tractors made their own break to set up the first score of the game. Tommy Davis intercepted a pass thrown by Ralph Gregory of the Cavaliers on the Princess Anne 39. Hit at the 35 he fumbled and Gregory fell on the pignik only to learn that the whistle had already blown before the fumble.

Nine plays later the Tractors scored when Soudel connected on a fourth down pass to junior end Pat Orndorff. The play covered 13 yards. Another Soudel aerial for the PAT was no good.

The Cavaliers roared back with a vengeance. Gregory returned the kickoff to the Princess Anne 36. Eight plays later Jimmy Sanders scored on an end around, from six yards out. Big gainer in the 64 yard march was a 28 yard gallop on quarterback sneak by Ralph Wetherington.

The third period was as weird a period as is likely to be seen any time anywhere. In twelve plays there were six fumbles, three for each team.

Churchland threatened a couple of times other than on their two scoring marches but a stiff Cavalier line made the Tractors give up the ball on downs. Enroute to their second touchdown the Tractors had a first and goal on the four yard line but needed all four downs to punch across the double stripes.

Wheat Acreage Computed Differently

A new provision with respect to the manner in which 1957 wheat acreage will be computed is explained to farmers by W. F. Hunter, Chairman of the Princess Anne ASC Committee.

If the wheat acreage exceeds the farm allotment by as much as one-tenth (0.1) acre, the producer will be considered to be in excess of his allotment and notified accordingly. Under the wheat marketing quota program the past three years farm acreages were similarly measured to one-tenth of an acre but any fractional acres were dropped and the farm acreage rounded to whole acres.

There remains in the 1957 wheat program a provision whereby any farmer is permitted to grow as much as 15 acres of wheat, but no more, irrespective of the size of his farm allotment. But farmers having wheat acreage in excess of 15 acres and the farm allotment are subject to a penalty on the difference between the measured wheat acreage and the farm allotment. Thus, for example, if a farmer's wheat acreage is determined to be 15.1 acres and his allotment is only 15 acres, he is liable for marketing quota penalty on wheat production from 0.1 acre.

In the foregoing example, a further provision of the program permits a producer to plow under one-tenth of an acre to come within the 15 acre permitted and thus avoid a penalty provided this excess is utilized by a date established by the State ASC Committee.

Mr. Hunter cautioned farmers to make certain that they understand this provision of the program so that they will not be caught with excess wheat subject to penalty. He explained that the method of computing acreages now adopted for wheat has been in effect for cotton, tobacco and peanuts. It has been incorporated into the wheat program to eliminate the abuse which resulted from farmers taking advantage of the previous nine-tenths (0.9) tolerance.

Annual Tobacco Festival in Richmond Seen Best Ever

More lovely girls, more floats, more bands, more special features — more of everything seems to be the story on the Eighth Annual Tobacco Festival which starts next Wednesday, Oct. 10, and continues through Saturday, Oct. 13 according to General Chairman Floyd E. Adams.

The illuminated parade has now grown to eighty-eight units compared to seventy-two units last year. Their first public appearance will be at the Mosque Wednesday night when they will be introduced from the stage before the nine o'clock performance of the Broadway musical hit, "Fajana Game."

A number of business firms will close at 4 p.m. on Friday to allow their employees time to go to their families, downtown to see the parade or to City Stadium where they can be entertained from 7 until 7 o'clock by cowboy and clown acts, see the complete parade circle the field, and the football game between the University of Richmond and The Citadel. This is the family night of the Festival and it is hoped that families will go to the Stadium early and take picnic suppers. The West Gate side will offer ample space for car parking and picnicking. The available space will be cut off at 7 o'clock.

The featured Saturday events will be a morning parade by the famous Ferko Wonder Bread String Band, the hour-long program show at the Stadium when the new "Queen of Tobacco" is named and crowned by Senator A. Oceana Unit Gets Pacific Assignment OCEANA—Air Task Group 11, commanded by Cmdr. Ralph L. Werner, USN, began an airship movement here last Sunday for the West Coast where the unit will go aboard the carrier Bennington for six to eight months of operational training in the Pacific.

More than 50 jet and propeller aircraft of the unit and some 100 personnel are moving westward on the ship. The final stage of the deployment is scheduled to be completed late this week, an Admiralty Fleet Air Force spokesman said yesterday.

In addition to operating from the Bennington off the West Coast, out of San Diego, Calif., AG-11 is slated for deployment, with the carrier, with the Seventh Fleet in the Far East.

The West Coast deployment project is not a "first," although it is relatively new for Atlantic Fleet air units. Last year a similar westward air movement was accomplished by an air group out of Quonset Point, R. I.

The air group, organized here last year, and accomplished its first operational cruise aboard the carrier Forrestal, will maintain its base in the Pacific on a permanent basis. The movement is part of a new deployment plan designed to give air groups "global training experience."

A total of five fighter and attack squadrons comprise the unit. Four are based at the Oceana Naval Air Station and the fifth is stationed at Jacksonville, Fla.

The Oceana units are Fighter Squadrons 31 and 41, and Attack Squadrons 36 and 42. VF-41 operates McDonnell-P3H Skyhawks and VF-42 operates F-4 Phantom II.

Operate both the Skyhawk and Phantom II are the two main aircraft of the unit. VA-36 operates the Douglas A-1H type bomber plane, even though these units will fly the new F-4 Phantom II jet attack plane.

Mercury News

Roy Alphin, local distributor of Mercury automobiles, returned to Virginia Beach Sunday after attending a special dealer showing of the new 1957 Mercury cars in Miami, Florida.

Alphin was enthusiastic over the new models that Mercury plans to introduce to the public this year.

Alphin was among some 2500 Mercury dealers from 32 states at the Florida meeting.

"We're looking for an increase in Mercury's market penetration next year of 1.5 percentage points over 1956—namely, for 6 1/2 per cent of the (total) market, which means we are counting on an increase of at least 100,000 units in next year's sales," Ernest R. Breech, chairman of the board of the Ford Motor Co., said.

Addressing some 2,500 Mercury dealers and their wives, gathered here from 32 states for the first half of the national dealer meeting, Breech added:

"We've spent more than 100 million dollars in design, development, engineering and tooling costs, alone, to make Mercury the outstanding entry in the medium-priced field."

"We believe it will do in that field what the Ford is doing in the low-priced field."

F. C. Reith, Ford vice president and general manager of Mercury, who presided during the elaborate stage and screen show, during which model after model of the gleaming new '57 Mercurys was driven out onto turntables on the 250-foot long stage, told the dealers and 150 new writers from all parts of the country that Mercury will increase its sales 45 per cent in 1957, based on a $1,750,000 unit sales year for the industry; depart from its traditional body shell in 1957 and introduce a larger body on models which will be used exclusively by Mercury. In its Montclair and Monterey series and station wagons; offer new car buyers one of the most extensive model changes in the entire history of the automotive industry.

"Our economists tell us," Reith said, "that the industry can expect sales to reach 8,750,000 during the coming year."

CONSERVATION RESERVE CONTRACTS RUN FROM 3 TO 15 YEARS

The contracts which farmers will sign not later than October 15 to get started for 1956 in the Conservation Reserve part of the Soil Bank program will run from 3 to 15 years, depending on the practice carried out, advises W. F. Hunger, Chairman of the Princess Anne County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Payments available for participation are two kinds - a cost-sharing payment which may cover up to 80 per cent of the cost when the practice is started, and an annual payment for the period of the contract. These payments in Princess Anne County are $10 per acre.

When approved grass cover is already on the land, only annual payments will be made and contracts will be for 3 to 5 years. Contracts for cover practices carried out under the Conservation Reserve program will run from 5 to 10 years; tree practices, 10 to 15 years. Such practices will be eligible for both Conservation Reserve and annual payments.

The Chairman cautions farmers who have not yet signed up that no more contracts for practices to be started this fall will be accepted after 15. The contracting period for practices to be carried out in 1957 will begin sometime after the first of the year.

Who's Running The Whitehouse

From the Washington (Call.) Register-Palmerian
 Angry spokesmen for the Eisenhower Administration get even more purple in the face when it is suggested that the military "chain of command" system is perhaps not the ideal way to operate the government of a republic.

Certainly many White House details can be handled efficiently by Sherman Adams and his staff. But the people of the United States didn't elect Sherman Adams President.

The impression we've been given, in assorted magazine articles, is that Mr. Adams, as Mr. Eisenhower's assistant, is right on top of things in the inner council of the Government, and that even when Mr. Eisenhower is absent for ill the devoted and able Uncle Sherman is there to see that all goes well. Fine and dandy, maybe.

But consider this paragraph from U.S. News and World Report:

"Sherman Adams, Assistant to the President, is so busy these days that it took a high-ranking member of the President's own staff two full days to get Mr. Adams on the telephone. Beside his regular tasks at the White House, Mr. Adams, together with Leonard Hall, is masterminding the President's campaign for re-election."

How do you like that? While the President and Vice President are busy with their duties, plan, the "Assistant President" is so busy with business and politics combined that he won't even talk to other members of what is called the "White House team."

Who do you suppose is running the White House these days — the chief telephone operator?

New Post Office Significant

Announcement of the new post office facility to be located on Pacific avenue between thirty-second and thirty-third streets is significant to the growth of Virginia Beach.

The local post office through Postmaster Howard Myers has recognized the need for this additional facility for a number of years and the move was made several years ago to establish a second post office here. The new building as proposed will have about the same working space as the present facility at 24th street and it is expected that ample post office boxes will be available.

Several times in the past the Sun-News has commented the post office here for its efficient public service and we feel sure that with the additional post office the service will be improved even more.

The mailing of the Sun-News, regular and special editions has always been done speedily and efficiently by the Virginia Beach Post Office and the cooperation received has been outstanding.

We find it a real pleasure to praise rather than criticize and we have always found much to praise in the work of the local post office.

The new post office building is a milestone in the history of Virginia Beach and points up once again its tremendous growth and the business development in the vicinity of thirty-first street.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

Thomas A. Moore, veterans' service officer for the Virginia State agency called Division of War Veterans' Claims located at 905 McKevitt Bldg., in Norfolk suggests the following warning to pensioners:

"There are a number of veterans in the areas I visit who are receiving pensions for permanent and total disabilities of non-service connected nature, as well as quite a few widows of deceased veterans on pensions whose husbands died of causes not connected with service in the armed forces. These widows and widowers, to remain eligible for pensions, may not have annual incomes in excess of $1,000.00, or $2,700.00 for the veteran with a wife, and $2,700.00 for the widow with minor children.

When a person receiving a pension fails to notify the Veterans Administration promptly of an increase in income which raises the annual income above the legal limits, the pension is stopped, and the person will create an overpayment back to the first of the year. Such overpayment is subject to recovery by the government.

If the pensioner, on finding that his or her income has reached the statutory limitations, immediately notifies the Veterans Administration, the payments will be discontinued at once, and no overpayment will be created. It is much better not to receive a check to which a person is not entitled, than to receive and spend the check and then have to pay it back.

In July of last year a widow on the pension rolls inherited a small sum unexpectedly which increased her annual income above the legal limit. She had not read her instruction carefully, failed to report her windfall until she received her annual income questionnaire, and was charged with an overpayment of the total pension paid her for 1955. Beginning with 1956 she again became eligible for the pension but will get nothing until the full overpayment has been recovered by the government. She would have been $302.40 better off if she had read carefully and heeded the warning which came with her notice of pension award."

Moore's office operates under the Directorship of Mr. Harry F. Carper, Jr., whose offices are in the Veterans Administration Regional Office Building in Roanoke. Moore visits the Virginia Beach Community House at 18th St. & Arctic Ave., on the second and fourth Thursdays in each month. Therefore, his next trip is on October 11, 1956 from 11:00 A.M. to 3:00 P.M. Contact him for any information on Veterans' affairs.

CORRECTION

The Norfolk and Western Railway advertisement that appeared in last week's edition of this newspaper had an erroneous statement next to the last paragraph, which read—"all taxes amounted to about $44,330,000, more than 21 per cent of railway operating revenues."

OPENING THE SEASON

The news of the opening of the New Casino and the Seaside Park is received with a joyous smile. The opening of these two vacation centers means the beginning of the summer season for Virginia Beach which is the biggest and busiest part of the entire 12 months.

CO-incident with the announcement that the casino will open on May 28, Hotel and cottages are announcing their readiness for the summer visitors; a few real estate concerns are moving in restaurants and sandwich stand operators are applying for town licenses and other small places of business are making preparations to greet with a bow the arrival of the first of June.

The idealism of Virginia Beach for a year-round resort is becoming more and more known to the outside world each year and accounts for rapid growth in the last few years. The advertising revealed through the new Cavalier Hotel has already proven a great asset and brought here many who went away delighted with Virginia Beach.

STAGE ALL SET "THE COMING OF THE CROSS" WOMAN'S CLUB PAGEANT

The date for the presentation of the "The Coming of the Cross" pageant written by Mary Siskin Leitch for The Woman's Club of Princess Anne County has almost arrived, and tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the beautiful gardens of the Cavalier Hotel. The public will be given an opportunity to witness the staging of the great portrayal of the landing of the first permanent English settlers.

Miss Elizabeth Hill and Mrs. E. E. Vick directors of the pageant, seemed highly excited with the showing made from Dr. Howard who leads the gallant band of Cavaliers to the spot where the cross is planted and who repeats the prayer upon its planting, to the little girls making up the rabbits and squirrels, wood creatures that greet the English settlers when they set foot on land here, the same remarkable precision in acting and presentation of speech is to be seen, all brought about through the diligent efforts and care experienced by members of the Woman's Club on the pageant.

FORT STORY NEWS

FORT STORY — Test drivers of the Army's new Superdick here defied the storm which raged through Tidewater last month. They placed continued tests with several of the Superdicks in the high surf off Cape Henry. Normal test operations were continued in the surf and beyond it without mishap.

KENDI SPEAKS

The complete story of Superdick was told for the first time at seven Wednesday (Oct. 10) evening before the Virginia Beach Kiwanis in the Virginia Beach American Legion home.

First Lieutenant Charles R. Kendi, a member of the Fort Story speaker's bureau and assistant project officer on Superdick, spoke on "The Army's Newest Swimming Truck."

Superdick, newest version of the Army's versatile DUKW amphibious truck of World War II fame, has been under test at Fort Story since mid-August. Kendi traced Superdick to its entire history and present status. Since the tests began August 13 at Fort Story, Superdick has been tested with an airborne artillery battery from Fort Bragg, N.C.; with Navy LVTs; on land, in the surf and in open water for speed and cargo capacity; and at Nags Head, N.C. for maneuverability in pounding surf and over vicious undercurrent.

Kendi, a graduate of Washington Jefferson College in Washington, Pa., and of a course at the Army Transportation School at Fort Eustis, has been stationed at Fort Story for almost two years. He has been motor officer of the 666th Transportation Amphibious Truck Company; motor officer of the 10th Transportation Amphibious Truck Battalion; and Fort Story's assistant project officer of the Superdick project.

U - C - D

Fort Story's United Charity Drive is underway with a goal of 100 per cent participation and a plea for one day's pay.

Major Herman Nadler, formerly executive officer of the 10th battalion here, is drive chairman.

Among the charities to benefit are the American Red Cross, the Heart Fund, the United Cerebral Palsy and the Tuberculosis Association.

NEW DUKW SCHOOL CLASS

With Class 63 just well underway, the Fort Story DUKW Driver's Course enrolled Class 64 — thought to be its largest yet — October 1.

Class 64 has about 90 members. The usually size averages 25.

TIME TO RETIRE

A former Fort Story soldier — a United States Naval Academy graduate, Class of '37 — was retired from the Army at Fort Eustis recently after more than 20 years active Federal service.

Sergeant First Class Charles J. Zeller was a Navy lieutenant when he resigned in July, 1941 after returning to the United States from the Philippines for medical reasons. In the Army he twice served as a warrant officer, variously in administration and as master of an ocean-going tug.

Speaking of tugs, he once designed one that was adopted by the Army. He was officer in charge of harbor craft for the entire Western Gulf Section of the Southern Defense Command for a time during World War II.

At Fort Story he was a member of the 558th Transportation Heavy Boat Company. The 558th is the unit responsible for Fort Story's landing craft retriever and the famous BARC Platoon which is currently operating in the Far North.

HEY TEX

When you hear "Hey, Tex!" in the 608th Transportation Company here, only one guy answers. He's from Columbus, O. and he's Private First Class Texas W. Hamlin, 19, and the only "Tex" in his company.

John Kerr, who became an overnight star as the result of his brilliant performance in the Broadway stage hit, "You and Sympathy," now recreates his role of the young pre-school student in M-G-M's film version, co-starring Deborah Kerr, also of the original play. The role of the student won John Kerr the Antoinette Perry Award, the Donaldson Award and the New York Critics Award. He made his most recent screen appearance opposite Leslie Caron in "Caddy."

The American people, through their Red Cross, have come to the rescue of their fellowmen in 6,000 disaster relief operations in this country. That is an average of nearly seven each month of the 75 years of American Red Cross history. The Red Cross is a participant in the United Community Campaign now in progress here.

Directory of Restaurants Is Plan of C of C

A restaurant directory of the entire Hampton Roads area will be available to visitors expected during the International Naval Review next June.

According to Mrs. Julia Nelius, Secretary-Manager of the Chamber of Commerce, a survey of eating facilities is now being made in Virginia Beach under the supervision of Mrs. Grace Culbreth, director of the Survey and Research Bureau.

All types of dining facilities will be included in the directory such as restaurants, snack bars, tea rooms and hotels with dining room services. This survey is being sponsored by the International Naval Review and various Chambers of Commerce.

The Naval Review will be a feature of the Jamestown Festival.

Tidewater Garden Club Opened Downtown

A garden center "to encourage and promote better gardening" has been opened by the Tidewater District of Virginia Federation of Garden Clubs in a room at the home Federal Savings and Loan Assn., Bldg. on Boush Street in Norfolk.

Mrs. E. D. Duval, president of the Tidewater District, officiated at the opening ceremony. The first aim, she said, would be the establishment of a reference library, through efforts of club members and interested citizens.

Present plans call for the center to be open on Wednesdays.

Mrs. D. J. Dee of Virginia Beach is district chairman of Garden Clubs and Mrs. H. T. Crittenden of Norfolk, is state chairman.

Mrs. Dee announced that the "purpose of this Garden Center is to encourage and promote better gardening, every phase of horticulture, conservation and community improvement and beautification. The service of such a center is untold if every affiliated club member is really interested and will help. Our staff will be volunteer workers and chairman of the library, horticulture, landscape, conservation and program, who will gladly share their knowledge with those visiting the center for help."

"Our main objective is getting enough material—garden magazines, books on landscaping, flower arrangements, encyclopedia, etc.—to get the library started."

Mrs. H. T. Crittenden, 909 E. 26th St., is receiving donations of books for that purpose. Those who wish may bring them to the district meeting to be held on October 30, at the Center, Mrs. Dee announced.

Polio Victim Named State Chairman Teens Against Polio

A winsome, athletic, sixteen year old Annandale girl who refused to stay down for the count because of polio has been named State Chairman of Teens against Polio.

Miss Kathryn Russell, an honor high school student and state secretary of the Student Cooperative Association was appointed to this position by Mr. O. D. Dennis, Jr. of Richmond, state March of Dimes Chairman.

In this capacity Miss Russell will organize Virginia teenagers in the fight against polio which will include an effort to get all state high school students inoculated with Salk vaccine.

"This year we have witnessed the unfortunate occurrence of paralytic polio striking 40 unvaccinated teens in Virginia," commented Miss Russell. "I believe this will not happen next year if all state teens work together for complete inoculation," she added.

Stricken by polio nine years ago, as were her father and brother, the student leader has made an excellent recovery. She is an excellent swimmer, a member of the varsity basketball team and former captain of the soft ball team. An outstanding leader all through high school, Miss Russell has served as Advertising Manager of the school year book, class officer, and is a member of the National Honorary Society. She was recently awarded a citizenship medal at Gilman State in Blacksburg.

The attractive young lady whose hobby is helping other plans to enter nursing after high school.

ReXall Ic Sale October 15th

The penny will have plenty of power at Barr's Pharmacy's ReXall drug store next week, according to Mr. Sam Mason. In fact, beginning Monday, October 15th, a single penny will buy up to several dollars worth of merchandise during the following six days, he reports.

This local drug store, together with other ReXall stores across the nation, celebrates the annual ReXall One Cent Sale, beginning Monday and continuing through the week until closing hours Saturday, October 20th.

During this sale, customers may save by buying two identical ReXall items for the price of one plus a penny. This unique merchandising event was initiated many years ago by the ReXall Drug Company as a means of introducing merchandise to new customers at special low prices. The original sale proved so popular that it has been repeated annually since 1931.

Medicines, baby needs, cosmetics, shaving needs, family and household necessities and many other drug store items go on sale Monday at two for the price of one plus one cent. In addition to hundreds of nationally advertised sale items, special Bonus Buys are being offered at reduced prices during the week of the sale. All items carry the usual ReXall money-back guarantee.

As a special service to shoppers, Courtesy Advance Shopping List booklets will be available. These booklets may be filled out and left at the store prior to the sale. The merchandise is then reserved for the shopper and may be called for at any time during the sale.

This year's ReXall One Cent Sale is being widely advertised in newspapers, magazine, radio and television.

Jalousie Company . . .

The Virginia Jalousie Company on Larkin Road at Hilltop has required the stock of the Air Control Corporation, it has been announced.

The parent company which again is sole owner of the jalousie firm is a long established business in the Virginia Beach and Norfolk area. The repurchase by Virginia Jalousie became effective last September 10, according to a company spokesman.

A total of 283 American Red Cross workers gave their lives in the line of duty during the Spanish-American War, World I, World War II, and the Korean War. The Red Cross, which continues to give service to the Armed Forces, is a participant in the United Community Campaign here.

Among the numerous volunteers who participated in 1955 in Red Cross programs, 99,000 were active in the Blood Program. The Blood Program is one of the 10 Red Cross services your contribution to the United Community Campaign helps to support.

It would require a space 40x40 feet and as tall as the Washington Monument (555 feet) to stack all the units of blood obtained by the Red Cross from volunteer donors during World War II, and the Korean War. The Cross is a partner in the United Community Campaign here.

W. T. COOKE PTA NEWS

Monday night October 1st saw Mrs. W. R. Henry and Mrs. O. R. Blomser installed as President and Vice President respectively of W. T. Cooke School P-T-A. Installing the new officers was former P-T-A president Douglas J. Hubbard. The names of Mrs. Henry and Mrs. Blomser were presented by a special nominating committee appointed at the September meeting with Principal Emily C. Parks as Chairman, to fill the presidential chair after the resignation of Mrs. John Tucker. Mrs. Henry was Vice President at the time and the committee was obliged to bring in the name of a Vice Presidential nominee to succeed her. Besides having a maternal interest in P-T-A work, both the new officers possess some teaching experience.

Other business during the regular October meeting made known that Mrs. Edward A. Barco has accepted the appointment to Chairman of the Ways & Means Committee. Mrs. Barco has the task this year of causing the budget to fit the available funds. This is no small problem, as the budget comes to $438.75 and available funds total approximately $300.00. She tells us that the experience of juggling her own family budget will come in handy. A Card Party to include Bridge, Canasta and Rummy is scheduled at the Community House Wednesday night October 24th at 8 P.M. as a fund raising project. Mrs. Barco's invitation goes out to all ladies in the community and those planning to attend are requested to contact her (Ph. 3292).

As the result of a question presented by Mrs. Claude N. Edwards, personal assurance was given by Principal James Johnson to parents present that Virginia Beach High School home football game tickets for the students of the elementary schools of the city would be available henceforth at the special price of fifty cents each both at the schools and by special arrangement at the stadium gates. Notice of the annual State P-T-A Convention at the John Marshall Hotel in Richmond on October 22 thru 24 was made by the President. Any member is eligible to attend. Those desiring to do so are asked to contact Mrs. Henry (Ph. 3169).

The Safety Patrol Training Program was completed in September according to Chairman C. R. Bailey. Safety for students are expected to benefit from this special training.

A safety program for presentation at the regular November Meeting is being formulated by Sergeant Bailey and Program Chairman Mrs. J. F. Killen.

A very warm ovation was given the music recital of Miss Fay Coppedge. She was presented by J. William Miller, Music Director of Virginia Beach High School. Miss Coppedge, a Freshman, gave an excellent rendition to "Green Cathedral" and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

Following the regular meeting, the annual Teacher's Reception took place in the school lunchroom. The success of the reception was contributed to in large measure by the Social & Hospitality Committee composed of Mrs. James Johnson, Mrs. H. A. Hols, Mrs. W. L. Taylor and Mrs. Sidney Killam together with the gracious volunteer help of other P-T-A members. Reports indicate that the air of cordiality which persisted during the evening has not recently been surpassed.

This year as in past years, it is the policy of the P-T-A to award to the classroom with the highest average representation at the monthly meetings, one dollar for use by that class to enhance the appearance of the room or to purchase material or equipment for the use of the students of that

PUNGO RIDGE 4-H CLUB IS ORGANIZED

A community 4-H club, including the Pungo, Back Bay, and Creed areas, was organized on September 5, under the direction of County Agent, Dick Cockrell, Assistant County Agent, Barnes Allen, and Home Demonstration Agent, Mrs. Elizabeth D. Deal, at the home of Jimmy Bright.

A few of the objectives set up for the year are as follows: to attend the State Fair; to tour the farms of the county several times and report on their progress; and to visit dairies and other outstanding industries in and around Princess Anne.

At a second meeting, held at the home of Karen Cartwright, the following officers were elected: President, Jimmy Bright, Vice-president, Gene Bright, Secretary, Karen Cartwright, Treasurer, Gerald Freeman, and Reporter, Jo Anne Etheridge.

The members voted to name the club Pungo Ridge.

Beginning with twelve members, the club hopes to enlarge its membership and through the cooperation of all have a very successful year.

Representation is indicated only on the Signature Record Pages for each class at the main entrance to the auditorium on meeting nights. Parents, both mothers and fathers, are encouraged to make sure that they have signed in for each child before leaving the meeting by Hostess Mrs. Lillian Snyder. She emphasizes that the dollar means a great deal to the class winning it.

Membership Chairman Mrs. G. Gordon Simpson makes the point that classrooms with 100% P-T-A membership prior to the regular meeting Monday November 5th, are awarded five dollars. $5.00 is obviously a "goldmine" to the classes receiving it. Last year seven classes were 100%. Considering the task of the Ways & Means Committee, wouldn't the awarding of a number of $5.00 prizes exhaust the P-T-A treasury???? 100% memberships will have the enthusiasm to gather the necessary funds to prevent such an occurrence.

It any of the students of Willoughby T. Cooke School live at your house and you're not helping to make his or her class 100%, why not now??? Call Mrs. Simpson at 2355-W.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

Veterans and widows and children of deceased veterans who are receiving pension payments from the Veterans Administration should report immediately any increase in income which would put them above the statutory limitations.

In sounding this warning, VA said that to remain eligible for pension under the law, pensioners of World War I, World War II and of the Korean conflict may not have an annual income from other sources exceeding $1,400 without dependents, or $2,700 with wife or minor children.

VA checks the annual income of those receiving pension through the medium of annual questionnaires which are distributed about January 1 every year.

Later, if the person receiving the pension fails to notify VA promptly of an increase in income which raises his annual income above the statutory limit, payments will be discontinued retroactively to the first of the year.

This creates an overpayment, VA says, and is subject to recovery by the Government.

If the person receiving the pension notifies VA promptly of such an increase, payment will result. VA pointed out that veterans, widows and children receiving pension can save themselves inconvenience and possibly money by notifying VA promptly of any increase in income which would put them above the statutory limitations.

Pensions are payable to veterans for permanent and total disabilities of a non-service-connected nature and to the widows and children of deceased veterans for non-service-connected death, providing the applicants are otherwise eligible. Any VA office explain full eligibility requirements for pension.

Q—I am training under the Korean GI Bill and I already change my course once. If I were to go back to my original course, would that be considered a second change of course?

A—it would be considered a second change and under the law would not be permitted. The Korean GI Bill allows no more than one change of course.

An area 30x30 feet and as tall as the Empire State Building would be needed to stack the bottles of bio-d donated through the American Red Cross since February, 1941. The Red Cross is participating in the United Community Campaign here.

The New Ford Station Wagon. This famous line of station wagons has been redesigned from nameplate to tailgate. These five spacious glamorous wagons are lower, longer, livelier than ever.

The New Fairlane 500 Series. Less than 5 feet high, over 17 feet long, largest car ever offered in the low-price field. With the look of tomorrow in its light-hearted lines, this Club Sedan (above) typifies the beauty of all five Fairlane 500 models.

After today, American cars will never be the same again.

For the Big New Kind of Ford is a brilliant new automotive package—the one fine car in the low-price field!

We've unwrapped the 1957 Fords!

These are the best Fords of our lives.

The whole package is new.

The power is new—with Silver Anniversary V-8's to fit every horsepower need.

The style is new—a revolutionary, sharp, brilliant, clear-cut design that will stand out in traffic.

The comfort is new—a real solid velvet-rod ride.

The braking is positive—silky smooth when you toe says "whoa." The steering is feather light yet firm.

This is a great automobile, from the large honest dial faces on the instrument panel to the effortless loading way it cruises. At high speeds this new Ford has none of the straining, lurching, stretch-out feeling you sometimes get in some other cars.

The new Ford begins with the "Inner Ford." Its new elegance comes from within, from the way its automotive muscles are put together. There are a thousand-and-one automotive lessons built into this New Kind of Ford. All of the changes are toward more rugged endurance, toward increased power, toward smoother operation. These are the bases for its "Mark V Tomorrow" elegance. This is the one fine car in the low-price field.

There are actually 19 different new kinds of Ford—the new Custom 300 and Custom Series on a 116-inch wheelbase, the new Fairlane 500 and Fairlane Series on a 118-inch wheelbase, and the famous five Ford Station Wagons, the champions of glamour cruisers. And no matter which new kind of Ford you choose, it's yours at low Ford prices!

How does it look? It's only fourteen hands high—as tall as a child's pony. You can stand beside it and lean your elbow on its roof. And it's over seventeen feet long... 21 inches wider than it is high!

This big new kind of Ford looks like the fun on a travel poster. It's the kind of car that looks sunshiny in the rain.

It looks as fresh as morning.

It looks like tomorrow—the first thing out of Detroit that symbolizes the New Age of Movement.

See it at your Ford Dealer's. Give it your own Action Test. But you'd better leave a deposit... for you won't want to bring it back.

HENDERSON FOR CONGRESS

"One of the Nations Outstanding Young Men"

Henderson, a 39 year old Williamsburg businessman, was born in North Carolina, and has been a resident of Williamsburg for the past 25 years. He was educated at William and Mary and Yale University, and rose from Private to Captain in World War II, serving in five major European campaigns. While building a successful real estate and construction business in Williamsburg after the war, he became active in community and state public affairs, and served as a member of the Williamsburg City Council. In 1948 he was named the "Outstanding Young Man of Williamsburg."

In 1952, Henderson was elected national President of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce and traveled throughout the 48 states and around the world. In recognition of the world's third largest civic organization, in 1953 he was chosen for a Special Citizenship Award by the American Heritage Foundation and visited more than 50 countries abroad organizing and promoting young men's groups as "a positive weapon against communism." In 1954 he was designated the "Outstanding Jaycee of the World" at Mexico City by young leaders representing 47 countries.

During the past two years, Henderson has been employed as the Coordinator for the National Automobile Dealers Association and recently resigned his appointment as a Consultant to the Director of the International Cooperation Administration in Washington to become a candidate for Congress.

Henderson has extensive governmental experience as a member of a number of national groups and agencies including the President's Industrial Safety Advisory Board, Industry Committee of the Federal Civil Defense, and in 1953 was nominated to the Public Advisory Board of the Mutual Security Agency. He has also served as a Director of the National Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report, Director of the Chamber of Commerce of the U. S., and Trustee of Freedom Foundation.

Henderson is married to a former William and Mary student, Nina Parsons, and they have one daughter. He is an active member of the Williamsburg Presbyterian Church, and has been active in the Junior Chamber, Rotary Club and the American Legion. The Hendersons reside at 195 Indian Springs Road in Williamsburg.

First Baptist Church

What does it mean to Pray?
It certainly does not mean God is a corporation in which we have great blocks of stock. Prayer does not mean going to God to get him on our side. The Pharisee did not not get very near to God by bragging about his religious life. We live the good life for the good that comes from it but not to have to hold over someone else in a superior attitude. Telling God, who already knows, about his program of righteous living did not make him more conscious of God but more aware of himself.
Prayer means waiting on God who comes in his own way to the penitent heart. The publican was right in expressing his unworthiness, "God be merciful to me a sinner." Prayer is not self exaltation but coming to God, seeking his presence and his will. God will come to the person who is willing to receive him. Self must be examined, sins must be confessed, faith must be exercised in the goodness of God, and man must be the supplicant.

THEY WON'T BE LATE!
Maybe they were slow in dressing... probably they dawdled a bit over breakfast... but if you know the gait of those little legs you can be sure they won't be late.
This is one of the fascinating paradoxes of youth. A child may have to be prodded to get to school on time—yet he doesn't want to be late!
And the paradox has implication for parents as they plan the religious education of their children. Jimmy may seem reluctant about his first trip to Church School... and Susan may shed a tear when Mother "leaves" her in the Beginners' Department. But wise parents never delay their youngsters' religious training. It is unfair to handicap a child with a late start in the vital process of moral and spiritual growth.
Inquire at the church of your choice, and bring your child to Church School as soon as he is of age.
And, remember, parents need religious training too! If you do not now attend Church regularly, start with Jimmy and Susan.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor in the growth of the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values.
Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1)
For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4)
For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and spiritual support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and fables... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

Apple Harvest time is one of the most beautiful times of the year. It was a little later this year than in recent years because of weather conditions. Tasty Virginia, grown apples are well worth waiting for. I hope, you've been enjoying them often since the supply has been coming to market.

It may be too much to place any faith in the old saying "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." Even so, we all know that a fresh, ripe apple is loaded with nutritional value, perhaps one of the best buy for your money anywhere.

I feel sure your doctor and your dentist will recommend an apple a day for your diet, because:

An apple is so rich in Vitamin A and C, carrying a healthy punch of calcium, phosphorus, and iron.

An apple contains levulose. This is an excellent sugar item which the human body easily can convert into energy.

An apple has high pectin qualities. These, along with cellulose, help to step up one's digestive action.

An apple is Mother Nature's tooth brush, a few bites of an apple perform wonders in oral hygiene; those bites help you clean your teeth, they massage your gums with easy, pain-less way, and they disinfect the mouth and sweeten the breath as you munch the tasty fruit, loaded with calcium.

Every Virginia school child should be familiar with the words of Commodore Matthew Fontaine Maury. They should know that he pioneered in oceanography, the exact science of charting the world's seas and oceans, their currents and tides. Much of his findings today are employed as the big liners and the Navy tasks forces ply the deep. But how many know that this Naval officer had a contribution to make to the commercial apple industry of Virginia, or that he was responsible for the naming of "Apple Pie Ridge" in Frederick County?

The westernmost counties of the Commonwealth of Virginia are the heartland today of the apple-growing industry. This is so to a large extent because Mother Nature willed it, and also because Commodore Maury applied scientific principles to establish the wisdom of planting fruit trees on the western slopes to escape damage from late spring frosts, which had proved devastating in some areas.

"The first scientific observations on an issue of the Southern Planter in 1854, 'on the difference in temperature between valleys and the slopes above them were made by Lieutenant Matthew Fontaine Maury, USN, about 1840.'"

"These experiments, which were made in Amherst, Frederick, and Albemarle counties, indicated the best locations for planting — fruit trees to escape damage from frost."

Commodore Maury, in describing his observations said:

"In Frederick County there is an elevated ridge of land on which apples are so generally safe, when all others in the neighborhood are killed by frosts, that it has the name of 'Apple Pie Ridge'. It is so to this day."

Here are some interesting facts about apples.

Apples started in Virginia 300 years ago. I quote from Department of Agriculture Yearbook for 1937: "Certain it is that in 1647 the apple is recorded as grafted upon wild stocks in Virginia, while in 1686 William Fitzhugh, describing his own plantation, mentions a large orchard of about 2,500 trees, most grafted, well fenced with a locust fence."

In New England, Dudley in 1726, wrote "our apples are without doubt as good as those of England & much fairer to look to... Our People of late years have run so much to Orchards, that in a village near Boston consisting of about 40 families, they made near ten thousand barrels, (of cider)". Grimes Golden & Golden Delicious apples both were discovered on the steep slopes of west Virginia hills; the Grimes Golden about 1805; the Golden Delicious justly claim to be "Mother of Yellow Apples."

York Imperial was discovered near York, Pa., in 1820. Four miles outside York, Pa., stands a monument to Jonathan Jessup, who about 1829 found growing there a most exceptional apple, one that was juicy-and-flavor liden, and which kept "under the leaves" until spring. The new fruit was so good that within a few years it became the most popular variety up & down the Appalachian Apple Belt. Holds its shape & flavor under cooking heat exceptionally.

There are many Varieties of apples some good for both eating & cooking—some especially good for eating—some for cooking & some "Splendid" for all purposes.

For all purposes - select Grimes Golden, Stayman, Golden Delicious Lowry, Black twig & Winesap. Especially good to eat and in salads are Jonathan, McIntosh, Delicious, & Winesap-For baking—the N. W. Greening is one of the finest, Rome Beauty is a favorite too for baking & of course many of the other Varieties bake well. Some of the varieties that makes especially apple sauce are Yellow Transparent, and Duchess.

Sometimes a combination of varieties is used for apple sauce. It is said - the DELICIOUS is most popular for eating—the STAYMAN, the finest for all purposes - GOLDEN DELICIOUS, grand all ways—WINE-SAP, after January—Tops—YORK IMPERIAL famous for cooking—makes the best fried apples - you ever tasted, JONATHAN - for high flavor—is delicious in Salads - GRIMES GOLDEN - Crisp - Juicy, Tart - fine flavor outstanding all purposes - ROME BEAUTY - finest for baking. These are all familiar to most of us and can usually be found in our stores & super markets. Don't forget Apples - the most perfect package of Health! They contain 4 Vitamins - and minerals, that - they are the first aid in the Nation's 3 main dietary ailments - those resulting from our "soft-food" diet: Bad teeth, Constipation & overweight.

Here are some recipes - that I know you'll enjoy preparing and eating - the apple Muffin recipe - to me is just grand -

a Dogs Life

FIRST AID FOR SWALLOWED OBJECTS

By E. M. Gildow, D.V.M.

Many dogs are natural retrievers, and, being without hands, carry everything in their mouths. Young dogs and eager dogs often accidentally swallow small objects such as stones, balls, jacks, sticks, toys, spark plugs, wire, nails, and bullets, to name a few.

And what do you do when your dog swallows something he shouldn't? If you see him swallow...

Dog of the Week:
GERMAN SHORT-HAIRED POINTER

Sporting dog. Average weight: 65 pounds. Height at shoulder: 25 inches. Coat: Short, thick, harsh, disjunct. Color: Solid liver, liver roan, liver and white spotted or ticked.

low an object, quickly feed him a slice or two of soft bread. Then pour salt on the back of his tongue to induce vomiting. Help the dog rid himself of the object by picking up his hind legs and tilting him head-down.

If you believe your pet has swallowed a foreign object, and you have been unable to recover it, or if the dog swallows sharp objects like nails or pins, have him treated immediately by a veterinarian.

Bones sometimes become wedged in the dog's teeth or throat, and the animal becomes panic-stricken in his efforts to dislodge it. If the bone is accessible and not wedged too tightly, remove it. If not, rush the dog to the veterinarian, who has implements for the purpose.

Don't throw stones or other small objects for your dog to bring back to you, and caution your children about this. Soft rubber balls or other easily broken toys should be eliminated since portions may be swallowed by the dog. Do not feed him chicken bones or other small bones.

Feeding Tip: Except for flat rib bones and large knuckle bones, don't give bones to dogs. The essential calcium needed in their diets can be easily and safely supplied by feeding your pet high-grade, all-purpose dog meal, such as Friskies, which contains bone meal.

Happy Swap

More and more farmers—who badly need hired help sometimes, but can't afford a full-time hand—are making deals with young town workers and the employers they work for.

For instance, young Hap Hooper now lives rent-free on Easy Roberts' farm. In return he works about 100 days a year for Easy—for a farmhand's pay.

The rest of the year Hap works for his "regular" boss... Buzz Ellis, the electrician. Buzz just speeds up his business when Hap's on hand—slows it down when he isn't—and, like Easy, pockets healthy savings in wages. From where I sit, it's great how people with different backgrounds—and different viewpoints—can co-operate. How about more of us trying that? I live in a town—maybe you're a farmer. I'm partial to a good glass of beer—you may prefer coffee or milk. But we can make things pleasant by ignoring differences and giving each other a "hand."

★ HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING ★

HERE is what J. C. Penney, famous chain-store executive, considers one of the most important factors in business life—and, I add, in any life: Competition.

Mr. Penney believes that one isolated merchandising shop will not do as much business as another which has competitors up and down the street or somewhere in the neighborhood. Strange? Not when you think it over.

Mr. Penney explains it thus: More than twice as many people will come to a neighborhood where there are two or more stores. It's up to the merchant then to get his share of the trade. That this is true must have occurred to those many merchants who establish themselves in popular merchandising centers such as are being grouped in both city and country areas all over the United States.

A merchant-manager who knows his business will then work out his own individual methods for getting his share of the business.

What is the best method? Well, every customer, man or woman, if a moment is taken to consider it, knows the answer to that. Customers go first to where they have been attracted by clear advertising and good displays. BUT, they go the second and third and fourth times to the place where they are treated courteously, and where they get value for their money. It's the second and third and fourth shopping expedition to the same store that counts, for after a fourth visit a HABIT is established.

BY E. R. "DICK" COCKRELL, JR.

BEEF GRADES

STANDARD AND GOOD GRADES
BEEF: Available supplies of these grades of beef are on the increase as Virginia enters her heavy marketing period of grass fed cattle. As supply increases at retail level, consumers may look forward to more beef at lower prices.

GOOD GRADE: This grade pleases thrifty homemakers who seek beef with little fat but with an acceptable degree of quality. Although cuts of this grade lack the juiciness associated with a higher degree of fatness, their relative tenderness and high proportion of lean to fat make them the preference of many people.

STANDARD GRADE: Effective June 1, 1956, the grade "standard" was added to the Federal U. S. dressed meat grades. Cattle slaughtered for this grade of beef are a maximum 48 months old and consumers will find, with proper preparation, that such beef is usually tender. The thin covering of fat has appeal to those whose primary concern is a high portion of lean. It is mild in flavor and lacks the juiciness usually found in beef with more marbling.

PLANNING A BATHROOM

Before you start to plan the bathroom, learn the sizes of bathroom fixtures so you will provide enough space. Here are some factors to consider in planning the location for a bathroom:

Place the bathroom as near as possible to bedrooms.

Plan for only one door, opening from a hall if possible.

Have one outside wall for light and ventilation.

Do not place tub under the window if it can be avoided.

Provide access to drain end of tub for making connections and repairs.

Vent all fixtures.

Try to locate bathroom so it cannot be seen from living room and front door.

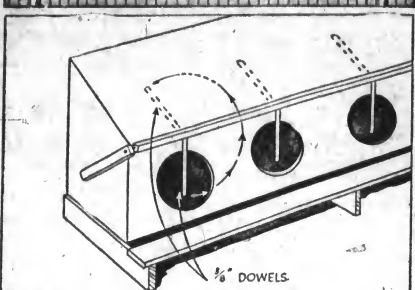

Try to swing door so it will screen the commode from view.

When practical locate the bathroom on the side of the house nearest the septic tank location.

Keep the soil stack and vent stack straight if at all possible.

Do not locate the bathroom so

FENCE LINES

STOPPER . . . You can prevent chickens from roosting in the nests of the poultry house by using this idea—% in dowels make a portable fence which can be dropped down to close the nest openings at night.

4-H CLUB NEWS

During the last two weeks two important 4-H club events have taken place in Princess Anne. First the 4-H clubs throughout the county have been reorganized to begin a new year's work. Also the boys and girls who will participate in the Baby Beef Program this year received their calves.

It is necessary for the 4-H clubs throughout the County to take in new members and elect new officers each year. This is done at the beginning of the school year since we have found it more satisfactory to have the 4-H club year correspond with the school year.

On Tuesday, October 2nd met of the boys and girls who are taking the Baby Beef Project this year and their sponsors gathered at the Princess Anne Livestock Market to pick up their 4-H club calves. These calves shipped into Princess Anne from all parts of the state on the previous day.

This year there are seven club members feeding Herefords, six feeding Angus and five feeding Shorthorn steers. This gives a total of eighteen 4-H club members who will care and feed their animals until the Show and Sale in May.

that the only entrance is from a porch.

IN TIDEWATER

The idea of "Rocket 303" pre-treatment of household fuel oil to provide less expensive heating and trouble-free operation of heating equipment is the newest advance in oil heating in 30 years. It's development makes possible an average saving of 20% in home heating cost.

"Rocket 303" was developed by one of the country's oldest compounders of fuel oil and boiler room chemicals in the industry. It is designed to very substantially increase the efficiency and economy of fuel oil heating through such factors as more complete combustion, cleaner smoother burning, and soot free furnaces.

Democratic Women are Told Big Business is GOP Backed

Under Republican administration, the profits of big corporations have increased by far higher percentage than have the salaries of these corporations' employees, Sidney S. Kellam told the new Women's Democratic Club of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County at its organization Monday.

He said automobile manufacturers' profits had increased as high as 74 per cent from 1952 to 1955, while workers' wages went up only 14 per cent.

Kellam, former director of the Virginia Department of Conservation and Development and a leader in Virginia's Democratic organization, charged the Eisenhower administration with favoritism to big business.

Mrs. V. Alfred Etheridge, wife of the Princess Anne County treasurer, was elected president of the new club.

The other officers are: Mrs. Robert B. Tynes, first vice president; Mrs. James Kontopoulos, second vice president; Mrs. Harry F. Ames, third vice president; Mrs. George Manson, recording secretary; Mrs. George Beagle, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. D. Y. Malbon, treasurer.

The club has 126 paid-up charter members. Mrs. Etheridge said last night.

Speaking at the Normandie Restaurant, Kellam also told the women voters that Virginia and the South would "fare much better" under a Democratic administration.

He called attention to recent transfers of Navy operations from Norfolk to the West Coast as examples of favoritism against the South.

Kellam cited several examples of heavy profit increase of large corporations during 1955, which he contrasted with relatively small increases for the working personnel. He was introduced by Mrs. Tynes, the first vice president.

Miss Blair L. Stewart of Norfolk spoke briefly on the role of women in politics, outlining functions the new club should fulfill.

Princess Anne Commonwealth's Attorney Robert S. Wahab Jr. has agreed to draft a charter for the new organization for presentation at its next business meeting.

Seahawks Impressive in Win Over Group One Suffolk Team

Sydenstricker Runs TD Lead to Seven

The Virginia Beach High School Seahawks will be out for sweet revenge this Friday night when they meet the Smithfield eleven under the lights at Virginia Beach's Memorial stadium. Kickoff time is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

Revenge is the word for it was the same school that marred a perfect record for the Beach Hawks last year. The Seahawks are again undefeated, though once tied going into the Smithfield encounter.

A stout defense and an alert offense brought the Seahawks victory last week against the Group One Suffolk Red Raiders. The score was 14-0 to give Coach Fred Isaac's team a win, four, tied one record for the current campaign.

Early in the first quarter of the football game and Billy Nichols blocked Beach's Bill Culverhouse's punt on the Sea Hawks' 15. Andy Boyce, a 245-pound tackle retrieved the ball and was hauled down on the 16. Suffolk then managed only two yards in four plays.

Suffolk kept Virginia Beach bottled up deep in their own territory in the first half with the accurate punting of halfback Earl Whitely.

But after the start of the second half, halfback Ken Sydenstricker poured on the steam to score Beach's two touchdowns.

The Seahawks, who had picked up only one first down in the first half, forced the Raiders' big line to open to rack up considerable yardage and five first downs.

Sydenstricker put the Sea Hawks ahead 6-0 after two minutes of the second half when he took a pass from quarterback Harold James on the Beach's 40. Raiders' George Birdsong made desperate attempt to tackle Sydenstricker on the 20, but the best-footed halfback squared away for the TD. Fullback Tommy Barnes converted for the extra point.

Beach then marched 75 yards for the final tally. Sydenstricker, eating up yardage on the drive, then drove over from the one.

Hampton Takes Pr. Anne 22-7

A highly favored Hampton Crabber eleven picked up their third straight league win and their fourth of the season Friday night by downing a Princess Anne team that played one of its better defensive games in a losing season before succumbing, 22-7.

At the same time, Warwick, the Peninsula's only other unbeaten eleven going into the Friday night contests, was bowing to Norview, 38-7.

A rugged Hampton defense held the Cavaliers in check, while the Crabber offense, stalled at times by the visitors, moved for three touchdowns after an opening period safety for the victory.

Herman McLeod chalked up the Princess Anne touchdown in the third period with the score 15-0 when he roared 80 yards with an intercepted pass on the longest scoring play of the game.

The Crabbers moved for two second period touchdowns to go into a 15-0 lead at half time. The first came on a 40-yard march following a Cavalier punt with tailback Danny Bridges going over from the one.

City Was Presented Two Awards During Council Meeting Monday

Virginia Beach is Cited as Safe City

The Virginia Beach City Council at its meeting on Monday witnessed the presentation of two awards to the city in the field of pedestrian safety. The awards were made by the American Automobile Association.

George Elliott, traffic safety consultant of the American Automobile Assn., and Stanley Jones, of the Tidewater Automobile Assn., appeared before the Council to present two awards. The first was a framed certificate showing that Virginia Beach was 40th in 725 cities in its record of pedestrian safety. The second was a small desk trophy for Police Chief Reeves E. Johnson for his contribution to pedestrian safety, particularly for that of school children. Elliott, in making his presentation, said that Virginia Beach actually is not in the same category as many of the cities cited.

The City Council approved a group life insurance plan for city employees, which will be negotiated by the city manager, W. Russell Hatchett.

The city manager and the police chief were also instructed to do something about unmarked police cars here. There are three cars at present and a white patrol wagon. The white patrol wagon is the only one that is visibly a police car.

A $19,000 expenditure for plans and specifications for the Pacific

City Council also decided to employ the State Board of Assessors to make a required reassessment of properties here. In 1957, state law requires reassessment and the City Council felt that the state assessment board could turn in a more equitable assessment of the resort's properties.

Local Democratic Leaders Give County Groups Campaign Facts

Kellam Cites Work Of Rep. Robeson

"Congressman Edward J. Robeson has answered every call from the people of Princess Anne County," he stated Sidney S. Kellam, area and State political leader. At a political forum held Tuesday night at the Princess Anne High School under the sponsorship of the Cavalier Junior Woman's Club with sister clubs from Princess Anne and Norfolk as guests.

Kellam praised the work of Ed Robeson, who is seeking re-election on the Democratic ticket for Congress, and attacked the national Republican campaign. Kellam told the audience that "when Virginia Beach needed help in fighting against erosion, it was Robeson who pushed legislation through the Congress."

Kellam appeared on the program along with Democrat John F. Rizer, a member of the House of Delegates from Norfolk, and Horace E. Henderson, GOP candidate opposing the re-election of Robeson, and James Elliot, Second District Republican Chairman of Norfolk.

Henderson called his opponent a "do nothing" congressman and accused the Democrats of "indifference" to the needs of the district in asking for re-election of Robeson.

Kellam said he was in a better position to know what Robeson had done as a congressman than Henderson.

"Ed Robeson has answered every call from the people of this county," Kellam said. He told the women that when Virginia Beach needed help in fighting against erosion, it was Robeson who pushed legislation through Congress.

The build-up for a clash came when Henderson, a young Williamsburg businessman, opened the discussion.

Kellam came to the defense of Robeson and said "I also stand for Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver."

Both Kellam and Rizer pointed out the Democrats' record in the past.

During the installation ceremony Shirley Slagle sang "Hold High the Torch".

The purpose of the association is to assist in promoting the school program by working with the faculty to set up rules and regulations. Officers are chosen from the 4th, 5th & 6th grades and meet bi-monthly. The first meeting is for business and the second, for programming.

After these meetings, Miss Manby then summons the Home Room Representatives from the various classrooms to a meeting, where they are informed of any action taken by the SCA Officers and Chairmen. They then act as liaison for their respective sections of the student body.

Home Room Representatives for this year are Pat Shean, Bill Goode, Naomi Camp, Harriet Watson, Barbara Anne Williams, Lyn Costenbader, Ruth Robeson, Laura Emanuelson, Herman Allen and Linda Batcheler.

What put the magic in the new kind of FORD?

The new Ford Fairlane 500 (114-inch wheelbase). Longer, lower, larger than many medium-priced cars, yet lower in price than most of them!

Here's what put the magic in the new kind of FORD!

It all started with the new "Inner Ford." When Ford engineers planned this baby, they didn't just think in terms of new springs, new brakes, new axles. They thought in terms of a far through-and-through new.

The wheels got smaller. Yes, this new Ford is so new in every detail that even the wheels have changed. Now smaller and broader for a better grip on the road, they help you take off quickly... give you a better ride.

The wheelbase got longer... so now you can choose between a Ford that's over 16 ft. long—or one that's over 17 ft. long!

The frame got wider. Side rails bow out to give a more stable riding platform... a lower, sleeker silhouette.

The ride got smoother. With new suspension, new springing front and rear, the ride this new Ford gives you is the closest you'll ever come to coasting on velvet-covered clouds. And that holds true on back roads, too!

The handling got easier. Poised and balanced like a panther, this car has new sweep-back front suspension that works its magic when you need it most.

The power got hotter. This new kind of Ford is packed with Thunderbird GO! It offers a wide range of Silver Anniversary V-8's to fit every horsepower need... plus a new version of the famous Mileage Maker Six.

"Six or V-8 the going is great!"

The roof got lower. And it's designed to let you make the easy entries and graceful exits you've always known.

The body got quieter. It's the strongest body ever built for a low-priced car. And no car in Ford's field has such generous sound-proofing.

The room got bigger. There's head room to spare for a tycoon-type hat. There's real stretch-out leg room, too.

The lines got sweeter. Ford gives you the longest, lowest, low-priced car ever. Each graceful contour of its sculptured-in-steel body says, "Let's go!"

The style got smarter. With this new-look Ford you have a car that belongs anywhere! Example: all Fairlane models, including sedans, have the look of a hardtop.

The value got greater... and the price is still Ford-low. The result—even more promise of buying a car that will keep its value high... a car that will stay worth more.

A special 210-hp Thunderbird 212 Super V-8 engine available at extra cost. Also, an extra-high-performance Thunderbird 212 Super V-8 engine delivering up to 212 hp.

SEE IT FOR YOURSELF!

Republican Statements

The Republican nominee for Congress from the First Congressional District made some rash statements at a meeting Tuesday night in the Princess Anne High School concerning Congressman Edward J. Robeson in which he referred to Congressman Robeson as a "do nothing" Congressman. We are not in a position to know about Congressman Robeson's activities in the City of Williamsburg, the home of the Republican candidate, but we do know something of his activity in this area.

It was Congressman Robeson who led the fight in Washington to secure for the City of Virginia Beach its federal funds for its erosion control program. It was Congressman Robeson who has put his force and influence behind the Lynnhaven Waterway Improvement. It was Congressman Robeson who supported the farmers of this area in their drainage problem and who has shown so much interest in behalf of and for civilian employees and the activities at the Oceana Naval Air Station.

And no one can rightfully and truthfully pin the label of "do nothing" on Congressman Robeson. And, unless the Republican candidate for Congress from this district wants to indict his Republican Party and President Eisenhower he is not on very sound ground when he accuses Congressman Robeson of being a 66 year old retired vice-president and apparently suggesting he is too old for the job. And, accusing him of voting against social security, tax income reductions, farm benefits and veterans benefits because the facts are that President Eisenhower is himself twice retired, once from the Army and again as head of a university. And, he is, as everyone knows, 66 years old, the same age as Congressman Robeson. And, if 66 is too old for a Congressman it must truthfully be said that it is too old for a President.

Again when Social Security was originally adopted 99 per cent of the Republicans in the House voted against the bill and one Republican candidate for president called it a cruel hoax and when the Democrats proposed the $20 tax reduction 97 per cent of the Republicans in the House and 98 per cent of the Senate Republicans voted against the bill.

And it is estimated that President Eisenhower's veto of the Democratic farm bill cost the farmers of our country a total of $3,100,000,000. And the Republican attempt to give department heads authority to fire veterans without regard to the veterans preference law the Democrats voted 95 per cent for veterans preference and the Republicans voted 86 per cent against the veterans. In the Senate the Democrats voted 100 per cent for the veterans and the Republicans voted 100 per cent against the veterans.

And, if the Republican candidate for Congress wants to make these points issues we are sure the Democrats will be glad to accept them because on this basis the Democrats would win 100 per cent. However, we feel that the Republican candidate should tell the people how he would vote on these issues and that he should present an affirmative program as to what he proposes to do when these same questions arise again.

Questions for GOP Smear Experts

Editorial—Questions for GOP Smear Experts In the arsenal of dirty politics used by many Republican campaigners, the war smear has replaced the Communist smear as the No. 1 weapon.

The war smear is the charge that, since America's three 20th Century wars were fought under Democratic Presidents, the Democratic Party is the "party of war."

The implication is that if Adlai Stevenson is elected President, war will come again.

President Eisenhower, in his press conference of Sept. 26, repudiated this smear. Nevertheless, it continues to be published in millions of pieces of Republican literature, and repeated by lower-level GOP campaigners every day.

No Republican can market this smear in good conscience unless he can first answer NO to these questions:

- Would a Republican Administration have stood by in 1917 while the Kaiser's submarines were destroying American ships and American lives?

- Would a Republican Administration have allowed Japan to sink our battleships at Pearl Harbor and get away with it?

- Would the Republicans have allowed the Communists to conquer South Korea, thus exposing the Philippines, Japan, and the whole of the Pacific, to Red attack?

History records the answers to these questions. Let no Republican make this charge without being told that:

An overwhelming majority of Republicans in Congress voted to declare war on Germany in 1917.

When informed of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, Wendell Willkie, who would have been President had the Republicans won the election of 1940, said: "I have not the slightest doubt what a united America should and will do."

And Vice President Nixon said on Sept. 1, 1953, "Let's recognize right now that the decision to go into Korea was right because the Communists had to be stopped."

That's what Republicans said then. For them to speak differently now is dirty politics, bad history, and an insult to the millions who fought and sacrificed for the cause of freedom in those wars, not as Republicans or Democrats, but as Americans.

FOUNDER OF WEEKLY DIES
AFTER LONG ILLNESS: BURIED NEAR BOYHOOD HOME

Two Hundred and Fifty Attend
Funeral Services

Held At Lindeberg Park Residence
Last Sunday Afternoon

The Rev. Mr. Eldredge of Calles Episcopal Church conducted the service and burial was in the family graveyard at Back Bay near his boyhood home.

Judge Ackles was born in 1871, his early life was spent on a farm. When he was 19 years old he went to William & Mary College and soon after became a clerk of the County Court of Princess Anne. It was there he took up the study of law and later entered the University of Virginia as a law student. In 1894 he established his first law office at Princess Anne Court House. He then was appointed Commissioner of Accounts and then after two years resigned to accept the office of Commonwealth's Attorney. He served in this capacity for fourteen years. He later was appointed Judge of the Circuit Court but after a short term resigned to resume his private practice.

ESTABLISHED NEWSPAPER

Feeling that the county should have a newspaper, devoted solely to its interests and serving for its advancements, the weekly, with Judge Ackles as the editor, published its first issue. Under his guidance the publication grew rapidly and firmly established itself.

After Judge Ackles' death, J. B. Tallafiero took over as editor and business manager, and W. R. Terry, Jr., as Managing Editor.

Is There Healing Power in Prayer

In their healing power in prayer? Is there any relationship between atomic radiation and cancer?

There are some of the subjects Dr. Michael Ash, of London, will speak about in a lecture Wednesday, October 17, at the headquarters of the Association for Research and Enlightenment, Dr. Ash is a noted researcher in the field of spiritual healing, and his topic will be "Health, Radiation and Healing."

The lecture will be held at 8 o'clock under the sponsorship of the A.R.E., and will be opened by an introduction by Hugh Lynn Cayce, general manager. The A. R. E. is located at 6th street and Atlantic Avenue.

A seminar on spiritual healing will be conducted by Dr. Ash Thursday morning, October 19, from 10 o'clock to twelve noon, also at A.R.E. headquarters.

Dr. Ash is a graduate of Bedford School and St. John's College, Cambridge, and Trinity College, Dublin. He is a member of the Merchant Marine as a ship's surgeon and in the British Army as a medical officer. He was born in Dalling Ho, Suffolk, in 1914.

He is a member of the Harveian Society (London's oldest medical society), a fellow of the Royal Society of Medicine, a member of the Guild of St. Luke's (the Catholic medical society) and on the executive board of the St. Mary's Division of the British Medical Association. Dr. Ash, whose book "Health, Radiation and Healing" will be published this year in New York, writes, "My interest was a little off center in medicine. Radiation research and the bearing of radiation on the production of cancer is a thing I am writing on at present. Healing by prayer and the laying on of hands is my main research interest in medicine. I have found that the power that exists in some close way associated with other forms of radiation. What radiates from the brain when we think and more so when we pray is what I hope one day to discover and am groping in this direction."

The lecture and seminar will be open to the public through voluntary contributions.

Friends School Educational Meet

October 15th at 8 p.m. parents, teachers and committee members of Friends School gathered at the Friends School to hear Rachel Leitchworth, associate principal of Westown Friends Boarding School near Philadelphia, Pa. During the day she had made an evaluation of the school.

Dr. John E. Lippincott, Chairman of the school committee welcomed everyone in his opening remarks. He said that Quaker education began in England in 1648 and spread to this country by the latter part of the 17th century. Dr. Lippincott introduced Anna Belle Croonenbergh, principal of Virginia Beach Friends School. She told the parents that in reply to the many questions about Friends School, the committee had brought a person who could answer the questions on Quaker education. She then introduced the speaker, Miss Leitchworth, who is also a member of the Friends Council on Education, which is, as she said, a group who encompasses Friends education around the world. She brought to the audience's attention that all Friends schools recognize and nurture the seed of God in every child. In a Friends school there is an atmosphere of caring for one another. Each child is encouraged to find his place and help in making this a better world in whatever way he can.

In Friends education there is a freedom to put first things first. Children are taught to reach to the source beyond self. Parents, teachers and the committee discuss things together and work them out. Friends believe in temperance in all things, equality in everything, and in upholding their peace testimony, they feel that the world has not tried every way to live in peace together. They dare to believe there is a way.

Silence is a great strength in all Friends Schools. Whatever is taken into the silence, however it is met, in the quiet there is a gathering of the spirit out of which comes strength.

"Virginia Beach should feel the impact with the world," Miss Leitchworth emphasized. She suggested that the boys and girls write letters to children in Friends schools in Japan, Germany, England or some other country.

Questions followed Miss Leitchworth's talk and out of them arose a desire to have a council made up of parents, teachers, and committee members who want to join in to help build up a more complete library, to clear the wooded area, to make a ball field for the boys, to cut wood for the fire, and to emphasize growing together in war and play.

FORT STORY TELLINGSARCTIC AMPHIBIANS

FORT STORY — The world's largest amphibians, Fort Story's four 100-ton BARC's are enroute from Baffin Island, Canada after a summer-long resupply operation in the Arctic.

This was the second summer in which the huge amphibians barges had participated in Operation SUNC — Support Unit Northeast Command — which yearly supplies radar stations and airfields along America's Distant Early Warning (DEW) Line across the North.

According to an official report released here October 16, the four BARC's and their crews are tentatively scheduled to arrive at Little Creek Naval Amphibious Base October 19 aboard the landing ship dock USS Shadwell.

Also scheduled to arrive aboard the Shadwell are members of Fort Story's 565th Terminal Service Company and Detachment 2 of the 605th Amphibious Truck Company. Detachment 1 of the 19th Truck Company from nearby Fort Eustis is also expected.

Fort Story and Fort Eustis are Army Transportation Corps posts belonging to the Army Transportation Training Command. More than 2,500 TC soldiers trained at the two Army forts last spring participated in various key supply operations in the far North the past summer.

BARC's — officially barges amphibious resupply cargo — are 100-ton monsters with a powerful diesel motor for each of their huge wheels. They are so maneuverable they can turn around in little more than their own length and so rugged that on occasion they've carried greater than their own weight in cargo.

To load or unload the BARC's, the Shadwell is able to let water into her deck well until her stern is sunk below water level. The barges can then move freely on or off the landing ship dock until she closes her stern and pumps herself dry and afloat.

SPEAKERS' BUREAU

The Fort Story speakers' bureau — an organization charged with informing the public about the Army's activities — has reached full strength according to the post public information office.

"This means," said a spokesman, "that the bureau can provide a speaker on short notice for just about any subject."

The speakers' bureau provides Army speakers for community, civic and fraternal organizations and activities throughout Tidewater. There is no charge for the service and qualified speakers are usually available on the subject requested.

Most of our speakers are Fort Story Army officers," the spokesman said, and so best prepared, of course, to discuss facets of the military. However," he added, "Army men are traveled, well read people and Fort Story speakers are competent to consider a wide range of subject matter."

The spokesman said speakers are arranged through the public information office at Virginia Beach 4080 extension 73.

PRESENTATION

Some $2,944.30 in annual savings will be realized through six employee suggestions adopted by the Fort Story Incentive Awards Sub-committee according to Miss Barbara W. Baer, its executive secretary.

Awards totaling $140 were presented October 11 to suggestors Edward E. Bell, Dick L. Warren, Elbert L. Harris, George E. Woods, Barney O. Patterson and William J. Carr Jr. — all Fort Story civilian employees.

In the same ceremony, Fort Story commander Colonel George E. Woods Jr. presented certificates for completion of an 18 hour course in the technique of work simplification to Bell and to these others:

Sergeant Ralph D. Belue, Sergeant First Class Frank Dellagenna, Second Lieutenant Robert A. Gerlin, Second Lieutenant George N. Graf Jr., Lemuel J. Harris, Sergeant Salvatore A. Intagliata, John H. Johnson, Master Sergeant Harry A. R. Peterson, and Second Lieutenant Karl L. Shank.

Miss Baer announced also the presentation of certificates to four earlier participants in the work simplification program who had not previously received certificates. They were Miss Lillian E. Farley, James W. Wolcott Jr., Harry R. Holland Jr., and Nick Shively.

Birdneck Garden Club

The Birdneck Point Garden Club held its October meeting last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. E. F. Harshcutt with Mrs. E. R. Coffmann and Mrs. J. W. Hunt as co-hostesses.

At the business meeting it was reported that our annual plant sale was a success.

The guest speaker, Mr. Wendall Winn of Winn Nurseries, gave a most interesting and informative talk on landscaping.

The Newcomers Club will meet the third Thursday in each month at 8:00 p.m. at the Paramount Restaurant, 18th & Atlantic Ave. All women new to the area are cordially invited to attend. For information, call Mrs. Ernest Turnbull - 1790-J.

One of County's Most Unusual Charities Announces Wants No Money - Just 350,000 Eyeglasses

One of the County's most unusual charities recently announced it will accept no money for its 1956-1957. It wants no money, only eyeglasses - 350,000 of them. This unique goal was set by New Eyes for the Needy, Inc., a non-profit, non-sectarian organization of 40 local women dedicated to helping others help themselves by making it possible for them to see normally. The old glasses collected by the group will be used to defray the cost of new, individually fitted, prescription lenses for thousands who need but cannot afford them.

New Eyes for the Needy salvages the precious metals in the frames of glasses received as donations from all over the country. Discarded jewelry and other items containing precious metal are collected. The metal is melted down and sold and the proceeds pay for new prescription glasses. It takes about 40 old pairs to pay for a single new pair.

Literally hundreds of pounds of plastic framed lenses are also received in each week's mail and these are carefully examined by a testing committee working under the supervision of an optician. Simple near-sighted and far-sighted lenses, well as special high power cataract glasses, are distributed to missions and hospitals in foreign countries. Recently, 1,900 pairs of sunglasses were sent to lepers, whose eyes are super-sensitive to light, at the famed leper colony of Airaku-en, on Okinawa.

Headquarters are in the basement of a Short Hills parish house and here the contents of hundreds of mailbags are acknowledged, sorted and tested. From here glasses are distributed, and salvaged gold and silver scrap, with permission of the Government Assay Office, is sent to a local refinery for melting down into bullion. The value gained from this salvage has helped to better sight more than 180,000 men, women and children. In more than one instance, an optician's visit to a backwoods home or isolated community to help an unfortunate shut-in has been arranged. And all the aid given has been paid for by a charity that never asks for a cent of money!

Any person needing corrective glasses who is unable to pay for them, is eligible for aid. There are no racial, religious, or territorial qualifications. New Eyes works closely with hospitals and welfare agencies to verify an applicant's need.

The 1956-1957 goal of 350,000 glasses is the highest ever set, and New Eyes for the Needy, Inc. asks only that you send discarded glasses: jewelry, unwanted, household silver; even dental fixtures - to them at Short Hills 24, New Jersey.

US Navy Band To Entertain

The United States Navy Band will open the 1956-1957 Entertainment Series at East Carolina College Monday, October 15, with a concert at 8:15 in the Wright auditorium, Chairman James W. Butler of the college Entertainment Committee has announced. Eight major events, scheduled from October through April, will be presented on this year's series, he said.

Jeffrey Lynn, stage, television, radio, and screen artist, will appear October 30-November 2 in four performances of "State of the Union." The well-known actor will be cast with members of the East Carolina Playhouse, college dramatic club, and will spend some time on the campus assisting students in entering the East Carolina production through courtesy of the American National Theatre and Academy.

Four outstanding music events are included on the Entertainment Series. The Roger Wagner Chorus will be presented in concert, Feb. 28; the National Symphony Orchestra, with Dr. Howard Mitchell as conductor and Seymour Lipkin as guest pianist, March 5; Mimi Benzell, Metropolitan opera soprano, April 1; and Carol Glenn, violinist, and Eugene List, pianist, in April on a date still to be announced.

Other events now in the planning stage include the appearance of a guest artist as a soloist with the East Carolina Concert Band in its major performance of the year. A nationally known band will be booked to play at a concert-dance, probably in the spring.

Patrons of the Entertainment Series who wish to obtain season tickets should communicate with James W. Butler, Alumni Office, East Carolina College.

The Tragedy of The One Talent Man

Jesus told the story of men who had various abilities. Some used theirs and are commended. One failed to use the one talent he possessed, and his character is drawn in sharp detail. Jesus took great pains to draw his portrait with elaborate care. As the story advanced, he occupied the bold center of the picture. It was not a question of his being careless. The case at hand was one of the hidden talent.

His failure was in the fact he did not see that his talent was needed. For this reason he hid it. When the tragedy of the hidden ability was discovered, the anger of the ruler knew no bounds. It is strange that so much should be involved in the loss of one talent that should have been used.

This is not hollow melodrama—every ability is needed in the divine economy. Here is a beautiful piece of architecture. Skilled hands are needed to bring the rare beauty that is desired. Before they work there is needed equally faithful ones to dig the foundation and lay the masonry.

Edwin Marcum says it this way, "There is waiting a work where only your hands can avail, so if you falter achord in the music will fall."

Since 1910 more than 20,000,000 certificates have been awarded to persons completing courses in Red Cross first aid, water safety, and accident prevention. Your contribution to the United Community Campaign helps to support these Red Cross courses.

A BOY'S PRAYER

Dear God... there's so much I'd like to say to You! It's that way lots of times. I want to talk to You, and then somehow I get stuck for words.

I guess I do some stupid things, sometimes... like that fight with Butch Hendley yesterday. He said something I didn't like and then I said something, and that was it. I guess I won, but afterwards I told Dad about it last night and he went for a walk with me and we looked up at the sky and the stars. Everything looked so big, all of a sudden, that it scared me. It seemed too big to understand.

Then Dad told me that there are lots of things like the sky and the stars, too big for people to ever understand. And he said that that's where Faith comes in, and that it is good to have the Church to put our trust in.

I got to thinking about that, and I told Dad that I'd kind of like to ask Butch to come to Church with us next Sunday morning, but that I was afraid he wouldn't come. Dad grinned at me and said, "Why not ask him and see?"

Dear God... I did ask Butch, and he's coming. Butch hasn't been to Church regularly like I have, so maybe when it comes to praying he's got stuck for words even worse than I do. But you'll listen to him anyway, won't you? Because he needs You very much... just like I do... just like all of us do.

Thank You, God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
All Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every parent should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

1957 Chevrolets Go On Display Tomorrow

Fuel injection and a new triple-turbine automatic transmission will make their debut on the 1957 Chevrolets.

The Chevrolet Motor Division announced today that fuel injection will be introduced on the Corvette engine, a lively new V8 of 265-horsepower that is to be available as an option throughout the line of Chevrolet passenger cars. Also unveiled for the first time is the new transmission, known as the Turboglide.

The 1957 Chevrolets go on display at dealer showrooms, Friday, October 19. In addition to the all-blazing RAMJET fuel injection and the new transmission, the latest models present a multitude of other styling and performance features that promise greater owner satisfaction than ever before. Fuel injection, a long-time objective of American automotive engineers in their quest for ideal flexibility in performance, replaces the customary carburetor. Because of quicker power response and faster warm-up, it is expected to gain almost universal adoption within a few years. Chevrolet pioneers the device in its field and will be one of the few makes, regardless of price, to offer the advance on October 19.

The Turboglide transmission is a Chevrolet exclusive. It carries the principle of torque conversion—also introduced in Chevrolet's automatic in 1955—to a new level of efficiency. The triple-turbine design provides an uninterrupted driving force at all speeds. There is no "hunting of shift."

Styling is of course an important part of the appeal of many new cars. The 1957 Chevrolets, however, improve on the design of the 1956 models. While two and one-half inches have been added to overall lengths, the horizontal sweep of new styling motif gives the impression that the car is even longer than its 200 inches. All bodies are lower, with a reduction of an inch and a half in height of the cowl and substantially increased windshield areas.

Common to the design of all passenger cars is a rugged front end that combines a massive guard and bumper ensemble with an aluminum grille screen and inset parking lamps. Lance-shaped wind-splitters on the hood add a touch of modernity.

On the seven bodies in the Bel Air series, for instance, a lean chromium spear extends rearward from the headlamp, spreading gracefully downward to the bumper and also branching upward as a rear quarter molding. The area encompassed by the diverging lines of the spear may be two-toned to conform with the body roof color or fitted with an optional panel of rolled aluminum. Two-Ten models, eight in number, have a single downswept lance molding from front to rear. One-Fifty side moldings on four body models extend downward from the fash and then horizontally across the rear fenders.

A variety of sparkling new colors in combination with the body selections furnishes the customer with 460 choices in the appearance of the Chevrolet he buys. Interiors, marked by rich upholstery in nylon cloth and plastics, have been completely re-fashioned. Seats have added comfort and are of an attractive slender Gothic form. Easily read instruments are sheltered under a cove, with all control knobs recessed as a safety measure. Other body highlights include a new ventilation system that has inlets under the headlamp hoods and supplies up to 22 per cent more air.

To power its 1957 line, Chevrolet will build one six and four new V8s ranging in output from 140-horsepower for the six to a sensational one-hundred-horsepower cubic inch of displacement for the "Corvette V8." The Corvette engine develops 265-horsepower with the RAMJET fuel injection system.

Several instances of engineering progress are evident in the new chassis. "Ram's horn" exhaust manifolds and right-ventilating four-cylinder valves and lower pressure tires (22 pounds) further insure comfort and safety through greater traction. Crankshaft bearings are wider, journal wearings are wider, and journal alignment is improved. Front suspension and shock absorbers are revised to provide a more comfortable ride. A new rear suspension is introduced, which is designed to compensate for changes in load. A new rear suspension is introduced, which is designed to compensate for changes in load. A new rear suspension is introduced, which is designed to compensate for changes in load.

Powerglide, proved in more than a billion miles of travel, power brakes and power steering, and electric window lifts are again optional. The company also makes available the gas-saving overdrive and a close ratio manual transmission that assures lightning down-up-shifts.

Chevrolet's new RAMJET fuel injection system is certain to draw wide attention even among motorists who are mechanically minded. Fuel nozzles at each cylinder provide smooth operation, greater power.

While Chevrolet makes no extravagant claims for the device, research with fuel injectors indicates an increase in economy, warmer-up and elimination of carburetor icing. Another advantage is that a fuel injector requires less height than the carburetor. This could lead to an important reduction in hood lines.

Bel Air Coupe Mirrors New Styling

Larger, lower "in motion" emphasis on design of Chevrolet's three series of passenger cars for 1957 is evident in this view of the new Bel Air sport coupe. Along with the exciting exterior and interior styling, a higher performance peak and marked mechanical advances are among features.

Chevrolet Cameo Sets Truck Style Pace

Style leader of the truck field for 1957, the Chevrolet Cameo Carrier half-ton pickup packs some panel on plastic rear fenders. Chevrolet's new truck line is the most versatile ever offered.

Just out and just wonderful!

News for and About Local Servicemen

The Government's new school program for sons and daughters of deceased war veterans is limited to "young adults" generally between 18 and 25 years of age and not to younger children, Veterans Administration said.

Some mothers of pre-teen-agers have been asking whether the program applied to them. It does not, under the law, VA stated. The youngsters usually have to wait until they are 18 before they can begin.

The War Orphans Education program is for sons and daughters of World War I, World War II and Korea veterans who died of service-connected injuries or diseases. Eligible young men and women may receive Government allowances of $110 a month while in school or college.

It may be possible for a young person to start school before age 18, VA said. Conditions are that (1) he has quit or been graduated from high school; (2) he is above the age of compulsory school attendance; and (3) VA finds it would be in his best interest to start his training before turning 18.

It also may be possible to remain in school under the program after age 23. These are the conditions: 1. If the person passed his 18th birthday, but not his 23rd, when the law went into effect on June 29, 1954, he may attend school until June 30, 1961. 2. If he was eligible for schooling, but entered military service before age 23, he will have five years from date of discharge in which to attend school.

3. If the veteran's parent dies after the son or daughter is 18 but not yet 23, the person has five years from the date of death of the parent.

In no event, however, may a student attend school for more than 36 months, the maximum allowed by the law. Also, schooling under the War Orphans program may not continue beyond the young man or woman's 31st birthday.

Q—Who receives the monthly VA allowances under the War Orphans Education program — the student or his parent?

A—If the student is under 21, his living parent or guardian will receive the allowances. If he is 21 or over, the allowances will be paid directly to him.

Q—I understand that the GI loan program for World War II veterans has been extended another year, to July 25, 1958. Does this mean that the GI loan deal has to be closed by the deadline date?

A—No. The veteran must apply for his GI loan by July 25, 1958. The law gives VA up to another year—to July 25, 1959—to close the deal.

"We have been quite concerned over one of the many changes in the G.I. insurance program as enacted into law by the Survivor Benefits Act of last August. Effective January 1, 1957, the automatic indemnity against death in service or within 120 days after separation ends, and the right to apply for 5 year term non-convertible G. I. Insurance Within 120 days after discharge ends also.

The feature of the new law which has been disturbing is the cut-off date of December 31, 1956 for acceptance by the VA of applications for the 5 year term policies. Previously a newly discharged veteran was given 120 days to send in his application with his first premium, but now the application must be postmarked on or before the last day of this year. There are young men in this vicinity who have been separated since September 3, 1954, who were told at the separation center that free coverage would not run out for 120 days, men who want to keep government insurance but their 120 day period will run past December 31, 1956. We urge such young veterans not to delay applying but to take advantage of a life insurance opportunity which probably will never come again.

Not affected by the new law is the special non-participating term or permanent plan insurance for the service-connected disabled. Disabled men being released from active duty have one year to apply after the date the VA finds their disabilities to be service connected."

VIRGINIA VETS OFFICERS HERE NEXT WEEK

His schedule is below:

Moore visits this same location on every second and fourth Thursday, each month. On other days he can be reached in the office at 308-6 McDevitt Bldg., 803 E. City Hall Ave., in Norfolk. Supply Corps Officers Wives Hold Luncheon

"Increasing Importance of the U.S. Navy in National Security" will be the subject of a talk and film presented by Cdr. Frank Barbero, SC, USN, at the Supply Corps Officers' Wives Club monthly luncheon today at the Naval Base Officers' Club.

During the social hour beginning at noon, a white elephant exchange will be held. Those attending are requested to bring an unwrapped "white elephant" or a dollar bill. Luncheon is at 1 P.M. A bridge party will begin at 10 A.M. Those who would like to play bridge may call Mrs. R. W. Brown, MA-3-2924.

Red Cross girls, in providing recreation for American servicemen stationed at remote posts in Korea, have traveled the equivalent of seven trips around the world since the program began in October. United Community Campaign helps support this service to our Armed Forces.

In 1953 the rapid increase in accidental deaths and injuries on the nation's highways prompted the Red Cross to establish highway first aid stations. Now, 2,000 of these stations are in operation. Your gift to the United Community Campaign helps to support this first aid training.

Here! New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks!

Performance-proved in a history-making test on the ALCAN Highway to Alaska

The Alcan Highway is the road where trucks grow old before their time. The road where gravel endlessly sledgehammers the life out of trucks. Where a fog of superfine dust chokes engines, and vicious ruts subject chassis to months of wear in a few hundred miles.

Six new '57 Chevrolet trucks, representing light-, medium- and heavy-duty models and heavily loaded with cargo, roared north from Dawson Creek, B. C., through 1,520 miles of mountains and mire, rain and hail to Fairbanks, Alaska. Running around the clock, they made this tortuous trip—normally a 72-hour run—in less than 45 hours. The fleet made normal stops along the way, and maintained safe and legal speeds. As a special test during the run, two of the trucks went the entire distance without once having their engines stopped!

It's all down in the AAA record book. And more besides! Never before has a new truck been so thoroughly proved. Come in and see how well these new Alcan champs measure up to your job.

Alcan fleet gets up to 14.17 miles per gallon! That's the mileage reported by the Cameo Carrier, with Thriftmaster 6 and extra-cost Overdrive.

FIRST WITH THE MOST MODERN FEATURES!

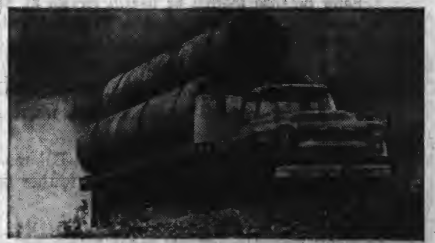

Now 283-cubic-inch Taskmaster V8 delivers 160 high-torque horsepower. Standard in Series 5000, 7000 and 8000, optional in Series 6000 at extra cost. Horsepower ranges up to 210 in Chevrolet's complete line-up of modern V8 and 6 truck engines.

Revolutionary Powermatic Transmission—exclusive with Chevrolet trucks! This six-speed automatic, designed specifically for heavy-duty hauling, is an extra-cost option in Series 5000 and 6000 and all heavy-duty truck models. Hydramatic is offered in 3000 and 4000 Series models at extra cost.

New 1957 work-styling gives Chevrolet trucks an even fresher, better appearance. There are three different and distinctive styling treatments.

L.C.F. models outside the C.O.E. because they're lower, handier, easier to get into and out of, and save time in routine engine maintenance. Yet they offer all the traditional C.O.E. advantages.

Heavyweight Champs with Triple-Torque tandem are rated at 32,000 lbs. GVW, 80,000 lbs. GCW. And Chevrolet's advanced tandem axle unit offers a built-in three-speed power divider—plus a unique "self-steering" action that reduces tire wear and increases handling ease.

News of Interest to Farmers

HOW MUCH WATER DO YOU NEED DAILY?
 How much water do you need each day on your farm?
 That's an important question when you're planning a water system, says A. J. Lambert, associate agricultural engineer at VPI. Figuring your water needs isn't just a matter of jotting down the amount of water you use at present. You'll use far more when electricity does the hard job of pumping and carrying water than when you do the job yourself. You'll also want to figure for the future. Is your family a growing one? Will you expand your farming operations? How many farm animals will you add in the years to come?

In calculating your farm needs, these figures for daily water use are the accepted yardstick: one producing dairy cow, 35 gallons; each hog, 4 gallons; steer, horse, or dry cow, 12 gallons; one sheep, 2 gallons; 100 laying hens, 4 gallons; and each person, 50 gallons.

Add up your daily water needs, then check on your present well capacity. It may be necessary to drill another well or deepen the one you have. It's a good idea to also check the purity of your water supply. Local health departments can give directions.

Draw up a master plan for supplying your whole farm with running water. Lambert suggests drawing a rough map of your farm and locating on it every spot where you need water—now and in the future. In the master plan, include the home, dairy, barn, milkhouse, hog house, poultry house feed lots, garden, fire hydrant, etc. The list may include locations where you will not install running water now. But full planning at this time will save headaches and money later when you complete the system.

With the map of water needs completed, dealers or power distributors can advise on what pump you need, pipe sizes, where to put the pump house, and other details necessary for an efficient installation.

CONCENTRATE MILK — A COMING DEVELOPMENT

What about concentrate milk? You'll likely hear about it in the future, says Carl J. Arnold, associate agricultural economist at VPI.

He says the development of concentrate milk may well be the most important change in the milk industry since the advent of pasteurization.

The sale of concentrate milk will likely occur in two stages. The first stage will be a fresh concentrate milk which must be kept under refrigeration. This form of concentrate is currently being sold in some areas of the country. Then will come a sterile, storable, high-quality concentrate that can be reconstituted with no undesirable flavors. It will move in interstate trade in the same way as evaporated milk. The cost of transporting either type of concentrate will average about one-third the rate for fresh whole milk. Thus, on a transportation cost basis, the concentrate milk will be able to compete over distance at least three times as well as those for fresh whole milk, Arnold says.

Market analyses show that consumer acceptance of the fresh concentrate product has been good when there was some difference in price. In most markets where the fresh concentrate has been sold successfully, it has been priced from two to four cents below fresh fluid milk. In some of the larger markets in California, fresh concentrate milk has accounted for as much as 25 percent of the total whole milk sales at a three cent price difference.

Since concentrate milk will resemble evaporated milk in many respects (taste will not be one), the retail price will likely eventually settle near the going price for the evaporated product. This means the concentrate will average anywhere from 3 to 10 cents below fluid prices.

Farmer this year expected to realize a slightly larger income than in 1955. Higher prices in the second half of 1956 and payments of close to $300 million to farmers under the Soil Bank and wool program will account for much of the gain.

Less than half the nitrogen fertilizer added to cultivated soils in humid areas of the country is usually recovered in the crop, according to soil specialists. Researchers say the low recovery is due mainly to erosion, leaching, and gaseous scattering of nitrogen.

YEAR-ROUND HAY FEEDING PAYS ON DAIRY FARMS

Hay feeding the year round pays on dairy farms.

Dr. W. S. Griffith, assistant dairy husbandman at VPI, says to give dairy cattle the chance to eat all the roughage they want to help them maintain production, and more immediately, to prevent the customary fall slump in milk production.

Feed racks or troughs are a practical way to keep hay available to the cows all the time. When pasture gets short, the cows will make up the difference by eating more hay. If you don't have a suitable rack that can be used for hay feed, plan carefully before building one. It pays to do a sturdy job of building. For feeding in bad weather, it is best to have a roof with large, hinged doors. It will protect the hay from the weather and pay for its cost in a short time. A good hay rack must be movable. By changing the location of the rack you can get the cows to spread their manure more uniformly and prevent excess trampling of any one part of the pasture. And wheels on the rack will enable you to move it to the barn for filling.

For better herd health keep the herd outside as much as possible. Until rough winter weather sets in, the cows will like eating outside, and will show their appreciation in the milk bucket, Dr. Griffith says.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Barnyard "WHOOdonit"

The Barn Owl Controversy still rages in our town. One group claims owls should be protected because they eat vermin. The other faction holds that those little howlers also eat chickens ... and should be shot.

Now Pope Parker claims both parties are right. All owls clean up vermin. Some owls also clean out an occasional hen yard.

The way to spot a bad owl, according to Pope, is to put up a 10-foot pole in the chicken run with a No. 2 trap on it. A marauding bird generally perches to look over the situation before he strikes, giving you your evidence, and the culprit!

From where I sit, I doubt if this will end the owl argument. People have different opinions on the subject—just as they have different opinions about whether beer, tea or what-have-you makes the best thirst quencher. Examine the facts and make up your own mind, I say ... and be thankful we live where that's possible.

Bell Tidings

The football season reminds a reader of the coach who took a promising tackle to the dean's office in hopes the dean would waive a written entrance examination. A brief oral quiz exposed the lad's ignorance. "How much," asked the dean at last, desperately, "is 7 and 7?" Pause. "Thirteen," said the boy. "Stinks," said the coach, "let him in anyway. He only missed it by two."

Sam had his heart set on taking Peggy to the Junior Prom, so he phoned her two weeks ahead of time. Peggy didn't answer right away so Sam thought nobody was home. He called next day—and nobody answered before he hung up. But Peggy was home all the time—upstairs, and she didn't reach the phone promptly. Regretfully, Sam called another girl. So Peggy didn't get invited to the dance. And Sam didn't go with his favorite girl. Moral: Peggy should have had a conveniently located extension so she could answer promptly! It's the practical and courteous thing to do to answer quickly when you're called—and when you're calling, to wait about a minute.

This is Red Feather month—help to send your Community Fund over the top!

In the telephone company files there's a big folder full of "thank-you" letters from all over Virginia. From a GI: "I want to thank you for your untiring efforts to get my call through." From a housewife: "May I compliment you upon the courtesy of the staff of your business office?" From a businessman, after extensive remodeling of his offices: "The willing co-operation and expert assistance of your personnel made the job immeasurably easier." All tell a story of how your friends and neighbors at The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia are sincerely trying to bring you good telephone service.

This is the month Virginia says good-by to summer. Take the family for a drive in the country, and store up in your memory box those russets and yellows of Virginia's beautiful valleys and hillides. They're a lovely sight.

Chrysler Plans Construction To Broaden Mkt. At Air Station On Imperial

Low-range plans to broaden the market for the Imperial automobile starting with the 1957 models were announced today by C. E. Briggs, vice president in charge of sales, Chrysler Division, Chrysler Corporation.

The most luxurious Forward Look car will be offered in four distinct series for the first time. A complete selection of body styles will be available in the widest price range in its history.

"We have already started our series of 17 coast-to-coast dealer showings of the 1957 Imperials. Dealers are seeing a completely new, lower car with an exciting new identity—a car incorporating many Chrysler-developed industry firsts which will help them keep pace with our greatly-expanded production schedules for 1957."

By instituting four different lines of Imperials with a wide choice of body styles, the Division is aiming for a greatly enlarged slice of the prestige market.

"For the first time, there will be an Imperial to fit the taste and checkbook of every one who wishes to drive the very finest and most glamorous motor car."

The Imperial was introduced as a distinct line of automobiles separate from the Chrysler line in November, 1954 when the 1955 models were shown. This year a convertible has been added to the Imperial line—a significant step in the market-broadening plan.

30 NEW DIESELS

The Norfolk and Western Railway will purchase 30 general purpose diesel locomotive units for use on its Clinch Valley District between Bluefield, W. Va. and Norton, Virginia.

The new equipment will cost about six million dollars. The 1,750-horsepower units will be built by the Electro-Motive Division, General Motors Corporation at its La Grange, Illinois plant.

Virginia Bond Sales Reported Lagging

E and H Savings Bond sales in Virginia totaled $6,351,538 in September. Sales the same month a year ago amounted to $6,232,437.

Total sales to-date in Virginia for the first 9 months were $65,945,216 or 70% of the assigned annual quota of $93,700,000. This is 5% short of what the performance should have been during the first months to be current.

Chairman C. Francis Coker has indicated concern over the possibility of Virginia not meeting its 1956 quota. In order for Virginia to make the quota, it will be necessary for sales during the remaining 3 months—October, November, and December—to exceed $9 million, which is more than any monthly sales have been thus far in the current year.

The following counties and cities had already reached or exceeded their sales goal for the year at the time the September report was prepared: Giles, James City, Russell, Wythe, and Waynesboro. The following had attained 75% or more of quota: Accomack, Allegany, Amelia, Buchanan, Lee, Mathews, Middlesex, Northampton, Northumberland, Pulaski, Smyth, Tazewell, Wise, York, Hampton, Martinsville & Henry, and Radford. There are also a number of other cities and counties that are well in reach of their assigned goals and with a little extra effort to make sales, should reach the mark during the last quarter of the year.

Let's Finish The Job" will be the battle cry of the 1957 March of Dimes this January, it was reported today by Mrs. Wallace Clark, chairman Princess Anne Chapter, on her return from a regional conference of March of Dimes leaders in Washington, D.C.

There is still a tremendous job ahead until polio can really be counted out," Mrs. Clark said, and pointed out that the polio-fighting organization would seek $46,900,000 for its program in 1957.

Mrs. Clark met with a group of National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis officials headed by Mr. Joseph F. Nee, National Director of the March of Dimes, along with 237 other volunteer leaders from a five state area, including: Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia. Others who attended from Princess Anne County Chapter included Mrs. J. D. W. Canasas, Treasurer of the Chapter, Mrs. Dudley Warner 1957 Campaign Director; Mrs. P. B. White, 1957 Campaign Treasurer.

"The advent of the March of Dimes-sponsored Salk vaccine has led a great many people to believe that polio is just about licked," Mrs. Clark said, "but actually many millions of persons in susceptible age groups are not yet vaccinated and there are many thousands stricken with polio for whom a vaccine comes too late. Much work remains for the March of Dimes if a victory over a virus is to be translated into a victory over a disease."

An early-morning fire Monday all but gutted the Paramount Restaurant at 18th Street and Atlantic avenue. The fire apparently began in the electrical wiring and did most damage in a balcony dining room. According to the family of Theodore A. Story Soldiers Return From Arctic Circle

FORT STORY — Some 150 shouting, laughing, crying children and wives gathered on Fort Story's shore October 19 to greet the last major group of Army Transportation Corps soldiers to return from this summer's supply missions near the Arctic circle.

Four giant BARCs — amphibious barges — with 195 enlisted men and nine officers aboard departed from the Navy landing ship dock Shadwell shortly after 7 a.m., almost an hour ahead of schedule, after a week's sea voyage from the Far North. After brief processing, the men were released on leaves and passes. The returnees are members of Fort Story's BARC Platoon, the 55th Terminal Service Company and the 60th Amphibious Truck (DUKW) Company. A part of Fort Story's 19th Transportation Truck Company was also in the group. More than 2,500 Army Transportation Corps troops from Fort Story and Fort Eustis took part in three supply operations in the Arctic areas this summer. The soldiers from the two Tidewater posts received amphibious training at Fort Story where most of the Army amphibious truck training is conducted.

New Lutheran Church Opens At Bayside

A new Lutheran Church in Bayside held services of formal organization Sunday in the Bayside Pines School building. Under the direction of Kenneth R. Carbaugh, the congregation, which has selected the name of Our Saviour's Evangelical Lutheran Church, held its first worship service last March. Sunday school services were added in April.

On Sunday the group formally organized and assumed its new name. The church will now make application for membership in the Lutheran Synod of Virginia. Some 300 persons were present at the Sunday services. More than 100 of these placed their names on the new church rolls.

A special feature of the organizational service was the presentation of a new Baldwin organ to the church by Chaplain and Mrs. E. E. Boserup. Speakers for the occasion were the Rev. Luther W. Strickley of the First Lutheran Church, Norfolk, and Rev. James E. Boserup, pastor of the Good Shepherd Church, Virginia Beach.

Seahawks Continue Victorious Streak

Virginia Beach's magnificent Seahawks continued their winning ways last Friday night with a strong 33 to 18 victory over the Smithfield Packers. Victory was particularly sweet since it was the Smithfield eleven that handed the locals their only loss last season.

Kenny Sydenstricker, who had been the main gun in previous wins, was again very much in evidence, but young Al Gregg stole the show with his running and feinting. He scored three of the winner's touchdowns.

By the decisive defeat the Seahawks moved one step closer to the District One, Group Two championship.

Virginia Beach managed only one touchdown in the first period but the Seahawks halfbacks took over in the second period to give Virginia Beach a lead they never lost.

Sydenstricker, a dependable offensive threat all season, yielded top scoring honors to Gregg who scored three of the winners touchdowns. It was Sydenstricker and Gregg who set the offensive pace in the third period when the Seahawks clinched the decision.

Virginia Beach 6-21 0 6-33 Smithfield 0 0 0 6-18 Virginia Beach scoring: Gregg (3) 5 yard run, 33 yard run, 5 yard run; Sydenstricker, James. Extra Points: Barnes, Smithfield scoring: Henry (2) (78 yard, 48 yard runs). Batten (55 yards).

P. A. Hi Loses To Warwick

Warwick's state-leading passing combination of quarterback Norman Sneed and end, Bobby Allen collaborated for a 37-yard touchdown to feature the Farmers' 28-6 victory over winless Princess Anne at Warwick last Friday night.

An estimated 3,300 fans saw Sneed, on a second-quarter play starting at the Princess Anne 37, fade back, hit Allen on the 11 and the 185-pound co-captain raced across standing up. It was the fifth time this season Sneed and Allen have worked their specialty and the sixth TD pass thrown by the lanky quarterback.

Warwick, winning its fourth game against one defeat, marched 80 yards with the opening kickoff and big Lowell Vaughn ploughed the last three yards. Halfback Bobby Irby, who scored the final touchdown on an 11-yard scamper in the fourth period, added the first four conversions.

After Princess Anne scored on Ralph Wetherington's quarterback sneak with four minutes remaining in the first half, the Farmers added their third six-point or Frankie Johnson's 14-yard sweep Princess Anne 0-0 0-0 0-0 Warwick 7-14 0-7-28

Bridey Murphy Film At Beach Next Week

"The Search For Bridey Murphy" will be shown at Virginia Beach Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday... with very special interest for local residents.

Because the now famous "search" which deals with hypnotic regression by one Hypnotist Morey Bernstein, began right here in Virginia Beach.

Tidewater theatre goes on to know the story through the book "The Search for Bridey Murphy," by Bernstein, have been anticipating the showing of the movie. They have been informed that Virginia Beach is one of the first cities to enjoy the controversial movie, starring Theresa Wright and Louis Hayward, and produced by Paramount.

In an interview Friday morning at 10:45 o'clock, radio face of WBOF will have an opportunity to hear Hugh Lynn Cayce, general manager of the Association for Research and Enlightenment, discuss the important role he had in bringing Morey Bernstein to the decision to begin the Search, exploring the possibility that reincarnation is a fact. He will be interviewed by Leo Hearty, WBOF station manager.

Mr. Cayce will open the second session of the October 1956 conference of the A.R.E. Thursday night at 8 o'clock with a lecture on "Four Psychic Forces." The conference, which will be held at the A.R.E. headquarters, 671 and Atlantic Avenue, will include lectures and classes to continue through Saturday night.

Morey Bernstein came to Virginia Beach several years ago to examine the records of the late and well known Edgar Cayce, clairvoyant, and visited the A.R.E. headquarters, then located at Fourteenth Street and Arctic Circle. He became interested in the data which seemed to point to the possibility of reincarnation, and decided to undertake experiments which might unlock memories of past lives on the earth. He chose the now famous Ruth Simmons as a subject, who told of her life in the 1800's in Ireland.

Newspapers and magazines published all kinds of ways Bridey Murphy may have made up the information in her present life, which was later put together by her subconscious, which became the Bridey Murphy story.

Reporter William Barker, of the Denver Post, recently expressed himself on a national television program, "The Big Story," as being convinced by the evidence which he found in a personal search for Bridey Murphy in Ireland. He was sent over by the Denver Post to track down the story and discovered many details which in his opinion could not have been known in any way by Ruth Simmons in the present life.

All this controversy has raised many questions and opened up for the public considerable discussion of hypnotism, life after death and the theory of Reincarnation. The picture coming to the Beach should be interesting to local residents not only because of its subjects being dealt with but also because of the sequences which it contains on Bernstein's trip to Virginia Beach and the psychic work of Edgar Cayce.

HOT WEATHER DOG CARE

By Bob Bartos
Prominent Dog Authority

Dogs are like people in that they can get very uncomfortable during hot weather, if proper care isn't taken. For example, most veterinarians advise stripping or clipping dogs with long, thick coats, which is a change from previous times when it was generally understood long coats insulated the dog against heat.

Always have plenty of fresh, clean water for your dog. Keep it cool and free from dirt and insects by setting the water pan in an up-eared wooden box and turning the open side away from the sun. See that your pet has a cool, shady place to rest.

On extremely hot days, sponge your pet, or spray him with the hose. Obviously, you shouldn't let him exercise too strenuously. Feed him in the evening and reduce his ration. Use a good flea powder or a sponge bath containing a flea control solution on him every week—and check him for ticks, if you live in an area where they're prevalent.

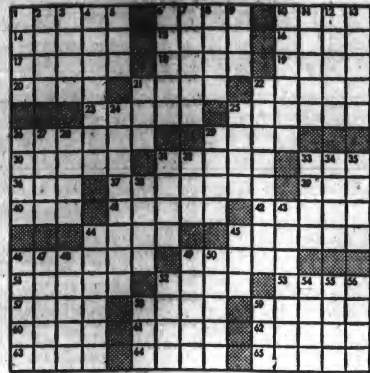

Never leave your dog in a closed car during hot weather. Park in the shade and open the windows several inches on both sides.

Some breeds of dogs are particularly susceptible to heat prostration due to breed characteristics. Furthermore, dogs that are overfat, weakened by disease, and old dogs (who are often suffering from heart disease) are more likely to suffer from the heat.

For prompt first aid, place the dog in a tub of cool water, or put him in front of an electric fan and soak him repeatedly with water until his temperature drops. Call your veterinarian.

Feeding Tip: During hot weather a dog needs less food. Underfed rather than overfed a mature dog during hot weather. A good quality dog food such as Friskies will supply his needs, and assure that he is fed a balanced, complete ration.

Cub Scouts Tough and Slalwart

By Kay Sewell
Virginia Beach Cub Scouts may be like all Cub Scouts — of comparatively tender years, but they're tough and slalwart lot. If you don't believe it, you ought to have gone out in the rain and high winds Wednesday night, October 17.

You didn't? Well, the Cub Scouts did, for this was the second meeting of Pack 60, in the 1956-1957 period. It was held in Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian Church.

Cars drove up, and jammed the parking places. DUKWS would have been more suitable, but nothing daunted the boys and their parents waded and, if need be, practically swam ashore.

This was one night when "Inspection," conducted by Garner House, wasn't too rigid. He didn't look too carefully at the boys from knees down. After all, those wet pant legs, socks, and shoes weren't as up to the nines as usual — but at least they were a sort of badge of honor.

Cubmaster Julian Burge presided. Dens with their attendant mothers sat in a semi-circle of chairs facing the stage. Behind them, the other parents with attendant small fry sat, dripping but proud, as the boys received their honors and showed what stuff they were made of.

New members Cary Dolgins, Martin Salas, Parker Sneed and Pennington Vaughan were inducted by the Cubmaster and committee chairman. Richard Morris was a transfer from another pack to Pack 60.

Commander David S. Bill, Jr., presented awards in an impressive ceremony with lighted candles as symbols. Names of boys receiving these awards will be announced later. Noteworthy was the presentation of the treasured Webelos pin to Charles Gilbert of Den 6. Cubmaster Burge then discussed the possibilities of establishing a Webelos Den at the beach, to serve as a comfortable and happy link for the intermediate stage between being Cub and becoming full-fledged Scouts. The need for parental cooperation was stressed. Theme of October's Cub Scout activity had been puppet-making. Den 6 presented a puppet minstrel show, complete with jokes, puppet laughter, and a spirited rendition of "Way Down Upon the Swanee River."

Den 3 presented "Robin Hood" with character and charm.

After the song fest and other Cub Scout ceremonies, all the puppet projects of the various dens were inspected in another room. Den 7 won the award for the best boy-made work. It was not an easy decision for the judges. One nice piece of work was by Den 5, which featured a troupe of puppet Cubs, all in uniform, with flat but individual khaki puppet faces.

Rain had stopped when it was time to go home. But it's the opinion of this writer that each Cub who attended should have gotten a special, non-scheduled award—for ability to swim between sidewalk (where you could find it) and cars.

The Telephone Committee

There have been many, many committees of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce in days past but we are convinced there has never been a more determined one, nor one that has tackled its job with such zeal as the present Telephone Committee of our Chamber of Commerce.

The Committee is seeking, as we understand it, to have the Virginia Beach telephone exchange incorporated into the Norfolk-Portsmouth telephone exchange. The committee has circulated letters pointing out the need and the advantages of such a change. It has begun a newspaper advertising program to "acquaint the public with its aims and objectives."

We would not attempt to pass judgement here on the matter although it would appear that it would be a definite advantage to telephone users of the Beach area. It would certainly be beneficial to local business houses in giving them access to potential customers on an equitable basis communication-wise.

The committee, in one of its messages, states that "the economic and social growth of this entire area is dependent upon the incorporation of these exchanges."

It is the hope of the committee that it will be in a position to seek a conference with the State Corporation Commission on this matter and it would seem that the entire project is worthy of study and review, by the public, the commission and the telephone company.

Give to Your Community Chest

This week and next week your neighbors and mine will be working feverishly to raise funds to support the ten agencies of the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Community Chest.

The work of the volunteer Chest solicitor is the most valuable aspect of a Community Chest with the lone exception of the good that the funds do for our community life.

A Community Chest drive is a challenge to a community and the task becomes greater since the total amount of money continues to increase as the size and needs of the community increase.

The Community Chest belongs to all citizens and it is an opportunity for all segments of a population to join together for the welfare of the entire area.

When the volunteer worker calls it is hoped that the donor will respond on the first visit since it takes quite a lot of time just to make one call in the territory the worker must cover. Any unnecessary call backs are time consuming and are detrimental to the eventual success of the drive.

This year the local Chest includes the Red Cross and the Chest goal is a whopping $60,000. To attain this figure the cooperation of all citizens is a must.

We know that this area will continue to support its Community Chest and that on November 2, the official closing date of the drive, the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Community Chest will again surpass its goal.

Safety Record Recognized

The City of Virginia Beach and Police Chief Reeves E. Johnson, in particular, were recognized recently by the American Automobile Association for outstanding records in pedestrian safety.

A framed certificate was presented to the City for its 40th ranking among 725 cities in its record of pedestrian safety.

Chief Johnson was cited for his outstanding work in the field of pedestrian safety among school children.

The awards are particularly noteworthy for Virginia Beach has a much greater challenge with its greatly expanded summer population and increased vehicular traffic. This was particularly mentioned in the wards.

The Sun-News congratulates the City of Chief Johnson for an outstanding feat in the field of safety.

Stevenson and the H-Bomb

In his television broadcast to the nation on the H-bomb, Adlai Stevenson made sharp the distinction between his approach to an enduring, safe peace, and that of the Eisenhower Administration.

The distinction is between Stevenson's unwillingness to accept defeat in the search for a way to tame the H-bomb, and the Administration's unwillingness to consider or discuss new deals in this all-important field.

The key to Mr. Stevenson's attitude is contained in this paragraph:

"This is one matter on which the defeatist view that nothing can be done must be rejected. I say that something can be done, that the deadlock can be broken, that the world can make a new beginning toward peace."

Toward this end, Mr. Stevenson proposes to make it "the first order of business," if elected President, to seek an agreement with the other atomic powers on banning large H-bomb tests, "by conference or by consultation—at whatever level—in whatever place—the circumstances might suggest would be most fruitful."

Clearly, Mr. Stevenson intends not only to make this "the first order of business," but he also intends to give it his personal attention as Chief Executive. Clearly, too, he did not rule out the possibility of a conference at the highest level—a summit conference of the heads of the three atomic powers, the United States, Great Britain and Russia—in an effort to reach an agreement on the banning of future hydrogen-bomb tests.

The heightened possibility of such an agreement is emphasized by the fact that since Mr. Stevenson made his first test-ban proposal last April, both Russia and Great Britain "have declared their willingness to join us" in halting future tests.

In contrast to Mr. Stevenson's willingness to confer "at whatever level, at whatever place" necessary, is President Eisenhower's assertion that he has said his "last word" on this subject which affects the very future of mankind. As Mr. Stevenson said, "This is one subject on which there cannot be, there must not be, any last word."

Mr. Stevenson's views were given authoritative reinforcement by two Senators who hold key positions in the U. S. atomic and military security fields, and who participated in the broadcast with Stevenson. Senator Clinton Anderson of New Mexico is the Chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, which by law, is entitled to all of the information on atomic energy that is available to the President himself. Senator Anderson gave eloquent testimony both as to the necessity of halting H-bomb tests as soon as agreement can be reached to do so, and as to the safety of such an agreement from the point of view of U. S. security.

Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri, former Air Force Secretary and more recently chairman of a special Senate Subcommittee that held extensive hearings on U. S. airpower, is well qualified to point out that it has been the Eisenhower Administration that has endangered U. S. security with its deep cuts in the Air Force and Army budgets, despite the persistent efforts of Democrats in Congress to maintain proper defense forces.

As Adlai Stevenson said, "We cannot brush the hydrogen bomb under the rug."

By his proposal to make a fresh assault on the barriers to world disarmament and world peace, he has given America the opportunity to "put the world on a new path to peace."

December 1925
BEACH COUNCIL TREASURER
LITTLE BUSINESS STUDY
WATER SITUATION

No formal action was taken on any matter of municipal importance although the problem of garbage collection and the water contract with the city of Norfolk came in for considerable discussion.

The water contract between the town and the City of Norfolk which is now being studied by the councilmen, came up for discussion. The town pays to the city $1000 per month interest charges on the water bonds. In addition to the regular rate of the water. It is felt that though interest charge is unjustified in view of the fact that an adequate supply has not been furnished. Only by constructing a reservoir at a cost of approximately $15000. Has the town been able to serve its citizens.

GARBAGE CONDITIONS BAD
The final matter to receive the council's attention was the present garbage situation. Mayor Barco stated that numerous complaints had been made and that it was evident that recent collections had been unsatisfactory. Dennis Perdue of Oceana who awarded the contract for trash and garbage collection was present and told the council that he was also dissatisfied with the contract. The reason given was that he didn't get enough garbage for his pigs.

Letter to the Editor
October 23, 1956

The Editor,
Virginia Beach Sun-News
Dear Sir:

May I solicit the use of your columns to ask support for the return of the Honorable E. J. Robeson to Congress.

My interest in Mr. Robeson's candidacy arises from his constant support in Congress of measures vital to the welfare of our community—no mention only one, the appropriation of Federal funds to combat beach erosion.

He has also closely followed the progress of the Lynnhaven Project, which was recently approved by the Army Engineer Department. We have his assurance of full support in this matter and his presence in Congress when funds are asked for this project will be a definite asset.

Very truly yours,
W. H. Terry, Jr.

"Spare and have is better than spend and have" said Benjamin Franklin two centuries ago. Today we believe in a judicious mixture of spending and saving. To save and have, invest your savings in U. S. Savings Bonds.

Speaking

WILD, WILD BRIDGE

Has this ever happened to you? Some friends have joined you to look at a favorite television program. The program ends and a large part of the evening is left.

As a Bridge player, this would seem to you to be the most logical time to suggest a few hands of Contract Bridge but unfortunately you don't know how well your guests play. Or maybe you wonder if you're equal to them in your knowledge of bidding systems.

Your solution may be in an odd concoction called Wild Bridge.

Wild Bridge presupposes that you know something about the fundamentals of Auction or Contract—the objectives of the game, how to arrange your hand, how the suits rank, the order of bidding, etc. But to play it you don't have to know about the Blackwood Convention, the meaning of an endplay or the significance of an overcall.

The aim of Wild Bridge is to put the game back in the hands of people who used to get heart of enjoyment out of it when it was played just for fun and sociability. Instead of thirteen cards to each player, you deal only twelve. The remaining four go into a kitty. Bidding proceeds in the normal fashion on the basis of the twelve cards. The winning bidder then picks up the kitty, examines it, chooses one card for himself, and gives one of the remaining three to each player as he wishes. (He doesn't reveal them openly, of course.) Then you play as usual.

This simple departure puts more emphasis on luck than skill and is guaranteed to upset any definitely contrived bidding system.

Then there's Super-Wild Bridge. After bidding on thirteen cards in normal fashion, each player draws one card blind from the player to his left. Two cards if you prefer.

Wild Bridge and Super-Wild Bridge aren't recommended for serious Bridge players—but what serious Bridge players would be caught looking at TV surveys? If you are a casual player, you might like a leaflet summarizing the Point Count Bidding system which may be obtained without charge from the Playing Card Association, 436 Lexington Avenue, New York 17, N. Y.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, U. S.
Washington, D. C.

Washington, North Carolina
October 19, 1956

Mr. Sidney Kellam
3113 Pacific Avenue
Virginia Beach, Virginia

Dear Mr. Kellam:

I have noticed with interest statements made by the Republican candidate in the Norfolk area papers with respect to the service of Congressman Edward J. Robeson, Jr., the Representative from your Congressional District.

It happens that my office and Mr. Robeson's office in the Old House Office Building are practically adjoining. In addition, Mr. Robeson is a member of the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee of the House of Representatives, of which I have the honor to be Chairman; therefore, I am in a position to observe Mr. Robeson's attention to his Congressional duties. I consider him one of the most active Members of the House and his record will bear me out. He is faithful to his Committee responsibilities as well as attendance on the floor of the House during the consideration of legislation.

So impressed have I been with Mr. Robeson's knowledge of matters under the jurisdiction of the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee that I named him Chairman of the Sub-committee on Coast Guard, which duties he has carried out most efficiently. He gives his full time to the lower Chesapeake area and has shown a diligence to his duties never surpassed during the sixteen years I have been a Member of the House of Representatives.

This letter is written without solicitation and merely on account of my interest in Mr. Robeson and the service he is rendering not only to Virginia but to my state of North Carolina as well.

With assurance of my high esteem, I am

HCB/paa

Sincerely,
Herbert C. Bonner

Coast Guard Academy Exams Nationwide

Today Representative Edward J. R. Bacon, Jr., announced that the competitive examination for entrance to the United States Coast Guard Academy will be nationwide on February 25th and 26th, 1957. The Congressman emphasized the opportunity offered young men who choose this four-year course which leads to a bachelor's degree and a commission as a career officer in America's oldest sea-going service.

"There are no appointments or geographical quotas for entrance in the Coast Guard Academy," he said. Candidates must be single and must have reached his seventeenth but not his twenty-second birthday by July 1, 1957 and he must meet the physical requirements.

A high school diploma is the minimum educational requirement, although high school seniors assured of being graduated by June 30 are eligible to take the examination if they will have at least 15 credits by that time. All applicants must have three units of English, two of Algebra, and one in Plane Geometry by graduation.

Applications will be accepted at Coast Guard Headquarters, Washington 25, D.C. if not postmarked later than January 15, 1957.

Small Town Girl: Miss America 1957

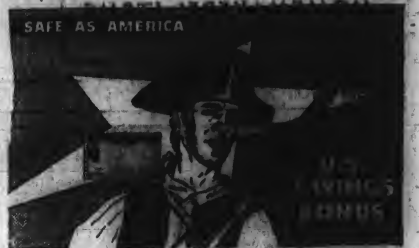

Marian Ann McKnight, from Manning, South Carolina, has been selected the new Miss America for 1957.

The beauty who captivated the judges—and a nationwide TV audience with an imitation of Marilyn Monroe, plans to use her $5000 dollar scholarship prize to advance her dramatic studies.

At her first press conference in New York, the former Coker College freshman endured a hail of the press. Reporters found the 19-year-old Miss McKnight a girl with a sense of humor and a mind of her own. She blandly stated that she "had no interest in a movie career" but preferred being a wife and mother. Her favorite colors are pink and blue.

One of Miss America's major assignments will be to introduce the "soap of beautiful women"—new "Pink" Camay for the Procter and Gamble Company. She relates an amusing incident regarding that activity. When her mother learned that Marian had received 100 bars of Pink Camay as the Pageant, she offered to take the soap back home to South Carolina, Marian, in a Marilyn Monroe style quipped, "Mother, just because I am Miss America, doesn't mean I can stop bathing. Half of that soap stays with me."

Now, the little "tomboy" who liked to climb trees and play "jungle"—so much so her father nicknamed her "Monk", the little "chubby" girl who broke her arm falling from a tree now travels with grace, dignity and beauty as the symbol of the dream of young American womanhood—Miss America.

Cannoneers - Travelers Battle

RE-MATCH
For the second time this season, the Third Anti-Aircraft Artillery Group-Fort Story Cannoneers will meet the Fort Lee Travelers football squad. The two teams, who will battle on the Travelers' home grounds last Saturday, started the season with a clash at Virginia Beach. Fort Lee emerged the victor of that September 18 contest by a 19-0 score.

It was, however, their lone victory so far and they come into this game attempting to break a four-game losing streak. The Travelers have lost to Camp Lejeune's Leathernecks 22-0, Bolling Air Force Base, 40-0, Quantico Marines, 39-0 and Fort Eustis' Wheels 31-0.

Third AAA-Fort Story's record shows a total of three losses as compared to one win. The Cannoneers topped Fort Monmouth's Signaleers 6-0, and then fell on succeeding weeks to the Little Creek Amphibious Base Gators 26-13 and the Bainbridge Naval Training Center Commodores 48-0.

Coach Harry Waiter Cannoneers will have some added advantages in this contest, however. Since the initial game, Jimmy Pace has joined the squad and the speedy halfback, formerly of the University of Texas, has been proving a threat at running and as a receiver for quarterback Kenneth Wilder's passes. Bolstering the defensive play is former Michigan State All-American Henry Bullough, who followed his college playing with

NATO Visitors Receive Salute

PORT STORY, Va.—A saluting battery from the 608th Transportation Amphibious Truck Company at Fort Story provided honors Monday for the Military Committee of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, which was visiting this area.

The committee is headed by Italian General Giuseppe Mancinelli. Lieutenant General Leon W. Johnson is American representative with the group.

The 18-member committee is considered to be one of the most important military groups in the free world. It returned to Washington Monday afternoon.

The eight member honor battery from Fort Story was commanded by Second Lieutenant Gerald P. Robinson.

VOLLEYBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

The 461st Amphibious Truck Company Barrage advanced to the quarter-finals in the intramural volleyball tournament held recently at Fort Eustis. They finally were dropped by the 40th Aviation Battalion of Fort Eustis who went on to win the tourney.

The other Fort Story team entered, representing the Headquarters of the 6th Terminal Command B, was defeated after three wins.

To prepare fresh coconut easily, make a small hole in the coconut and drain out juice. Place the drained coconut in a 350° oven until it starts to crack—about 15 minutes. Tap all over with hammer to loosen shell. Remove shell, peel with vegetable peeler and grate, or grind, as desired.

Cut leftover pastry in small shapes, sprinkle with cheese, caraway seed, chopped chives, or parsley, and bake as usual. These make a delicious accompaniment for salad, soup, or snacks.

CAVALIER GARDEN CLUB
The Cavalier Garden Club met on Wednesday October 20th, 1954, at 1 o'clock after which the business meeting was held. There was a most interesting talk on Day Lilies.
Awards for single flower specimens were won by the following members:

Rail oddities
A parade car used by David to display his collection of model trains and other rail oddities. The car is a small, open-sided vehicle with a flat roof. It is being pulled by a small engine. The background shows a mountain landscape with a river and a small town.

BLUE NOSE
PORT STORY—BANC number 1-X is a "blue nose". One of Port Story's 40-ton BANCs, that returned from the Far North, is now being used for sporting and pleasure use. It is a boat of honor because it has been the only BANC to penetrate above the Arctic circle.

MOCK SUPPLY OPERATION
The 300th Training Service Battalion from Fort Eustis began a week-long training exercise over the Cape Henry beach October 22. Port Story provided six DUKWs—the Army's versatile swimming trucks—and bivouac and training areas for the maneuver.

ROD & GUN CLUB
This tiny Army post on old Cape Henry has made for and will continue to make for an interesting and varied life for its members. According to Virginia State mammal control supervisor Nathan Swink, Jr. from Harrisonburg, Va., a case of rabies among this predatory animal population could spread like "wildfire".

ATHLETIC COMMENCEMENT

succession at the South Norfolk High School. The brothers, Billie and Buddy, now reside respectively at 1824 22nd Street, Norfolk, and 1209 Rosemont Avenue, Norfolk. After being named all-Tidewater in high school, Morgan enrolled in Virginia Polytechnic Institute and lettered there in both football and basketball.

PICTURESQUE
Port Story has the bones of a number of non-military activities recently coming to life. Tony Stewart, National Geographic photographer, shot scenes of the post and the surrounding area. He is now working on a book about the post.

And a group from the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce Civic Affairs Committee released 10 helium-filled balloons from the old Cape Henry lighthouse hill to designate "Clean Air Week." Purpose of the experiment is to demonstrate how air currents circulate about the post and rivers were used to notify the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce.

HEIGHT MARKS THE SQUAD. Cecil commented, citing Clarence Burton and Clement Felt, both six foot five inches, as examples. William Palmer and James Hunter also present, he commented. Returning to the squad until his December discharge date is Lieutenant Hank McQuerry, former Providence College standout.

COMPANY BOWLING
Company level bowling will begin October 30, according to Sergeant First Class Frank Cecil, athletic NOD man. Fourteen teams have entered the round robin league—which means that each team will play each other team twice. The winner will represent the post in the Transportation Training Command championships at Fort Eustis in April.

OFFICERS VOLLEYBALL
Six teams have entered the Officers Volleyball League which opened this week at Fort Story. Winner of the league will become the Fort Story champion.

Cannoneers Take Rest
FORT STORY, VA.—A two week rest lies ahead for the Third AAA-Fort Story Cannoneers. The 176th AAA Battalion and the Army Chemical Center have both asked that they be allowed to cancel games scheduled here for October 27 and November 3 respectively.

The Fort Lee Travellers, sparked by Don Mark's 75 yard punt return for a first quarter touchdown, defeated the Cannoneers 21-0 in Lee's Nowak Field last week. Marks, former University of California breakaway threat, returned a Benny Jordan punt from his own 25 down the left sideline for the opening Fort Lee score in the first two minutes of play.

Lee quarterback Blair Kramer pitched a 35 yard touchdown pass to end Glenn Nixon in the last minute of the first quarter for the second Traveller tally. Lee threatened in the second quarter when end Leroy Davenport covered a Larry Johnson fumble on the Cannoneer 12 yard line. However, the visitors' silenced the threat with Henry Edgerton's fourth down tackle of Al Jackson on the Cannoneer three yard line.

Final score came midway in the fourth period when Bill Harris recovered Cannoneer fumble on the visitors' 15 yard line. Charlie Wilson went over from the two yard line on fourth down.

A first quarter injury to Ken Wilder, Cannoneer quarterback, dealt a killing blow to the visitors' attack. Wilder suffered a laceration on his left hand and did not return to action.

Never before in history has anything built by men traveled so far in so short a time —by land or sea!

An announcement of decisive importance to anyone about to buy a new automobile

The most exhaustive endurance test ever given an automobile has just been completed by two stock '57 Fords—identical in every respect with cars now being offered by Ford Dealers.

Under supervision of the United States Auto Club and the Federation Internationale de Automobile, each of these two '57 Fords traveled 50,000 miles in less than 30 days. Ford No. 1 averaged 104.18 mph for the entire run . . . Ford No. 2, over 107 mph.

11 averages include time for all 48 hours.

In all, the '57 Ford smashed 488 national and international records.

This test will run on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah. It was the longest left turn in history.

A car, like a man, is known by its deeds, not words. That is why, we at Ford, despite our confidence in our '57 cars, let their deeds of accomplishment speak for themselves.

We wanted them to prove to you—in their own words—their performance we had built into them. Words of ours could speak with equal conviction.

There were 48 independent engineering organizations to test our '57 cars more thoroughly than any other cars have ever been tested before—in this country or abroad.

We provided them with '57 Fords—cars identical with those now offered by Ford Dealers. The rest we left up to them. Here is what they did:

They took these cars to the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah. Here, twice in the world's greatest dry lake bed.

In relay, they drove these cars night and day for a distance greater than twice around the world . . . a distance equal to 5 years of normal driving.

Not in all history has a man-built machine traveled so far in so short a time—by land or sea!

But this was not a test of speed—but of endurance of the "Inner Ford." A trial to take the measure of Thunderbird V-8 power without qualification of any kind. A test of running gear, of brakes, of materials in body and chassis. Of steering and roadability, yes, and comfort, too!

A test, indeed, such as no cars have ever undergone, let alone successfully concluded.

We feel that by their deeds, you shall know the '57 Ford cars. Surely they have told you, in decisive terms, that they are worth more when you buy . . . and when you sell.

Your Ford Dealer will gladly place at your disposal the new kind of Ford that means a new kind of value for your car—buying dollar—the greatest the world has ever seen.

When using paraffin to seal homemade jam or jelly, remember to apply a second coat of paraffin before storing. Wait until the first coat is thoroughly cool, then pour a tablespoon of melted paraffin around the edge of each glass while turning the glass slowly. If by chance the jelly was not entirely covered with the first coating of wax, it will be safely covered by the second.

New Plymouth Hardtop

The 1957 Plymouth Sport Coupe (hardtop) has a low silhouette, long wheelbase, more powerful Fury 301 engine and revolutionary new Torsion-Aire ride—said to be most important advancement in automotive design since the introduction of independent front suspensions. Car pictured here is the Belvedere with Sportone trim.

New Plymouth to Be Displayed Oct. 30

DETROIT—The 1957 Plymouth will be displayed by dealers throughout the nation beginning Tuesday, October 30, Plymouth President J. P. Mansfield announced today.

Lower, wider and more powerful, the new model represents a complete change in styling, body structure and chassis.

Mansfield said the new car is the result of a telescoping of Plymouth's forward planning.

"The car we are about to introduce has the style and features of the car we had thought, only a few years ago, as possible for about 1960," Mansfield said. "We have moved faster than we had hoped. The public has shown an eagerness to accept dramatic change."

1957 Plymouth models are as much as five inches lower than the corresponding 1956 models. The wheelbase has been lengthened from 115 inches for all models in 1956 to 118 inches for standard models and 122 inches for suburban station wagons in the 1957 line.

The new car has the appearance of greater length which comes from functional styling. A broad hood, soaring tail fins and forward thrusting headlight brow all contribute to the impression of length.

In chassis design, Plymouth has accomplished its most significant change since the introduction of independent front wheel suspensions with coil springs in 1934. The feature is called Torsion-Aire.

In the overall re-design of the front suspension, coil springs have disappeared. They are replaced by torsion bar springs which together with other equally basic improvements in both front and rear, produce a new kind of ride and new "handling."

The completely new front suspension and steering system creates a remarkable degree of stability under forces of acceleration, braking, and cornering. At the same time, according to Plymouth engineers, the vehicle is more softly sprung than ever before. For the first time on an American passenger car, ball joints are combined with torsion bar springs to create the unique combination of ride and handling characteristics. A new rear suspension incorporates relocated leaf springs, which contributes to the new better ride.

All of the 1957 Plymouths have more powerful engines than 1956 models. The standard V-8 for all models except the Plaza is the new Fury 301, the number signifying displacement. The Plaza V-8 retains a displacement of 277 cubic inches but, like the Fury 301, has a new camshaft, new carburetion, and other innovations to achieve increased performance and economy.

The compression ratio of the Fury 301 is 8.5 to 1. Plaza V-8 compression ratio is 8 to 1. The compression ratio of the Power Flow Six is increased from 7.5 to 1 in 1956 to 8 to 1 in 1957.

Other innovations in the 1957 line include:

New 11-inch brakes, of Chrysler Corporation's Total-Contact design.

A new integral all-weather air-conditioning system which combines heating, cooling, dehumidifying and ventilating in one under-hood unit, available on all V-8 models.

New safety recessed center steering wheel.

Do Not Handle Synthetics as Cottons

The introduction of the many new blends of synthetic and natural fibers into the washable, textile field can cause housewives many headaches.

Laundering and textile technicians at American Institute of Laundering, research and educational center for the professional laundry industry, point out that cottons have set the pace for housewives on maintenance procedures. Many housewives tend to treat all garments as though they were cotton. This will result in trouble both in washing and finishing.

For example, a great number of cotton-nylon blends are used in washables today. If such a garment is dried in an automatic drier, the fabric may have wrinkles set in it by the spinner. If the garment is ironed with a cotton setting, the nylon in the blend can be damaged by heat.

As a general rule, A.I.L. authorities advise handling according to the capabilities of the synthetic in a blend. This means that if a nylon is in the blend, the temperature of the washing water should be less than that of the garment was 100% cotton. It also means that the synthetic setting should be used during ironing.

Procedures and methods in professional laundries take these characteristics into consideration. A. I. L. has developed methods and techniques for handling synthetics. These procedures are passed on to member laundries. A.I.L. member laundries can be recognized by their A.I.L. membership emblem.

News for and About Local Servicemen

Veterans of World War I and II who have been able to keep their government insurance received some good news the other day in the form of the Veterans Administration announcement about 1957 insurance dividends. For the first time in 26 years policyholders of 5 year term U. S. Government Life Insurance, which originated in WW I, will receive a dividend.

The VA estimates that there are about 20,000 WW I veterans with USGLI 5 year term, who will share in approximately $1,000,000. Some 330,000 veterans of WW I with permanent types of USGLI will participate in another $25,000,000 in dividends.

It was also announced that another dividend on National Service Life Insurance to WW II veterans will be paid in 1957. Next year's dividend of $210,000,000, an increase of $28,000,000 over the 1956 dividend, will go to some 5,000,000 veterans of WW II who have in force either term or permanent types of NSLI.

Distribution of these insurance dividends is automatic and no application of any kind is necessary. If the procedure of former years is followed, payment will be made about two months following the anniversary date of the policy. I want to emphasize the fact that holders of the non-participating post-Korean NSLI insurance are ineligible for dividends. The law under which these policies were issued provides for much lower premium rates than the other two types of government insurance, and dividends are prohibited by that law. It should also be emphasized that the procedure for the dividend payments is automatic, and that letters of inquiry to the VA can result in delay by causing removal of an insurance file from the line of orderly processing.

Volunteers working in Veterans Administration tuberculosis hospitals incur no hazard of contracting TB, a nationwide VA survey shows.

While the incidence of tuberculosis in the general population is approximately 1 case in every 1,000 persons, Dr. Leo V. Schneider, VA Chief of Tuberculosis Control, said that of 11,375 volunteer workers X-rayed at VA hospitals and other installations throughout the nation from July 1, 1955 through June 30, 1956, not one had developed the disease since coming on duty.

These men and women volunteers, largely from veterans' and other community organizations and from the families of veterans, serve without pay at hospitals and similar facilities.

The one case of active tuberculosis in a volunteer worker discovered by the 1955-56 survey, Dr. Schneider said, was found in a routine check made by the VA just before the woman came into the volunteer program. Six cases of inactive tuberculosis were found at the initial check which is made before a volunteer enters on duty.

Thus, Dr. Schneider said, the precautions exercised at VA hospitals not only make volunteer work in a TB hospital safe but also contribute to finding cases of tuberculosis from communities at large which would be a health hazard to the communities if not recognized and treated.

The VA case-finding survey program provides for initial and periodic X-ray examinations and tests for volunteer workers, regular employees, and patients at hospitals and other installations.

The total of 11,375 volunteer workers examined in the 1955-56 survey includes 3,765 initially surveyed and 7,610 periodically surveyed. Dr. Schneider said the VA tuberculosis case-finding survey program for calendar year 1954 (January through December) confirms that, from the standpoint of a hazard of acquiring tuberculosis, VA hospitals are a safe place to work.

IT'S Fun TO COOK

COLONIAL CHICKEN CASSEROLE IN POTATO RING: One frying chicken; salt and pepper; 1/2 cup oil; melted; 2 tablespoons flour; 1 cup soup stock; 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard; 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce; 3 teaspoons ketchup; paprika; 3 cups mashed potatoes. Cut chicken in serving portions, season with salt and pepper and brown in melted butter; remove from pan. Stir flour into fat; add hot water or soup stock. Cook until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Add next four ingredients to cooked sauce. Place chicken in sauce, cover pan and simmer until chicken is tender. Turn into a casserole. Pipe mashed potatoes around the edge and cross top. Brown in hot oven. Zestful but not heavy, serves six.

NON-ARTISAN HAT-IN-RINGO CAKE: Bake your favorite white cake in two layers. Place one of the thin over a piece of heavy cardboard and cut in a round disk three inches larger than cake tin. Turn first layer over on the cardboard and use your favorite filling. Place second layer on top and frost entire cake and top of cardboard with a white or light yellow frosting. Using vegetable dye, paint heads of daisies and elephants along the hat-band region.

Never underestimate the glamour of a carrot-serve them at your campaign buffet dinner. This unassuming standby can be prepared in ways that bring exciting interest to your table, while it is working its well-known beauty magic on you. A pound of fresh carrots is the source of more than 10 times the daily requirement of vitamin A—the nutrient that helps provide healthy skin, bright eyes, sound teeth, tranquil nerves, and good growth.

Because the carrot is so readily available—in the markets 12 months a year—it is too often served just boiled and treated like a peasant. What injustice! This wonderful vegetable came to America with the first colonists of Jamestown, Va. In 1600, and its flavor and texture possibilities make it a true blood of the table in every way.

The carrot deserves, and can live up to, such gracious presentation. In "Carrots—fresh, whole, red-fleshed carrots soaked in chicken broth, seasoned with melted butter or margarine, dusted with ground black pepper and garnished with chives. This is a savory dish indeed that looks as elegant as elegant as it tastes.

Or, for a color and flavor harmony, what could be more appealing than Sauteed Carrots and Green Peppers? Raw carrots sticks, highlights on hors d'oeuvre tray. Carrot curls add filip to a fresh vegetable salad. Glazed in honey or brown sugar, carrots are an appetite-pleasing accompaniment for meat. A tall glass of frosted carrot juice is an alluring summer breakfast come-on.

The United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association offers these suggestions for making the versatile carrot a decorative asset to your table, and an ally to your health.

Campaign Party

SAVORY CARROTS

12 medium whole fresh carrots
1-inch beef or chicken broth
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 tablespoon chopped chives
Wash and pare carrots. Place in saucepan with 1-inch beef or chicken broth and 1/4 teaspoon. Cover and cook until tender, 20 to 35 minutes. Drain. Mix together butter or margarine, lemon juice, remaining 1/4 teaspoon salt and black pepper. Pour over carrots. Toss lightly. Arrange carrots on serving dish. Sprinkle as desired with chopped chives.
YIELD: 6 servings.

LYONNAISE CARROTS

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/4 cup chopped onion
3 cups very thinly sliced fresh carrots
1/4 teaspoon whole thyme leaves
1 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash ground black pepper
Melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Add remaining ingredients. Cover. Simmer until carrots are tender, turning occasionally. Serve hot.
YIELD: 4 servings.

SHREDDED CARROT AND BANANA SALAD

4 medium bananas
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 tablespoon milk
1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
1 1/2 cups finely shredded carrots
Dash lettuce
3 tablespoons peanut butter
Mayonnaise
Peel bananas and cut into 1-inch chunks. Dip in mayonnaise mixed with the milk and lemon juice. Set aside for 10 to 15 minutes. Roll bananas in shredded carrots. Serve on lettuce leaves. Top each serving with 1/2 teaspoon peanut butter. Serve with additional mayonnaise, if desired.
YIELD: 6 servings.

DECORATIVE CARROTS

When carrots were first brought to England from Holland, young women of fashion wore them to decorate their hair. In recent years, college girls calling to escort their swains to Sadie Hawkins Day parties present them with carrot bouffantes.

FROZEN FRESH CRANBERRIES

Fresh cranberries will be appearing soon on markets and many owners of home freezers, knowing how well these bright red berries take to freezing preservation will be buying some to put away in home freezers so that next spring or summer they can make their own cranberry specialties—jelly or sauce or pie or other favorites. So far frozen-food cabinets in retail markets the country over have not offered frozen-fresh cranberries.

If a trial-run in 10 supermarkets last spring in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area holds for consumers countrywide, prospects are good for this new frozen product. Almost half of the women customers who purchased the frozen-fresh berries said they liked them just as well as the fresh. Another 40 percent said they liked them better. A large number, 87 percent, preferred them to the canned variety. Because fresh berries may lose as much as 33 percent of their moisture in storage, the frozen fresh berries contain more moisture generally. If used for jelly, the amount of water added needs to be less if the sauce is to be readily. Buyers generally liked the rather flat box holding a pound of berries and 76 percent of the women reported favorably on the recipes printed on the box.

FRUIT CAKE IN THE FREEZER

If you still hold to the tradition of making your own holiday fruit cake, you may want to make it soon. And you may want to consider the advantages of keeping it in your home freezer.

Fruit cakes are particularly successful for freezing for many reasons. The flavor of any cake heavy with raisins becomes blended and mellow during storage, and the cake stays moist because of the fruit and fat present. Also fruit cakes are rather compact and sturdy so are not likely to be mashed or deformed during freezer storage.

Fruit may be baked, frozen and stored in oven glassware, or they may be baked in metal pans, removed, cooled and then wrapped and frozen.

LUNCH FROM THE FREEZER

The lunch that is carried to work can be fresh-tasting if prepared the night before or even weeks in advance—by using your freezer.

Wrap such luncheon foods as sandwiches, cookies and fruit, separately in individual servings and store in the freezer until time to pack the lunch. To avoid mixing different flavors, package each item individually. Food taken from the freezer for the lunch box in the morning will be thawed by noon. Dr. Fenton points out that they actually may taste better than food prepared and packed fresh that morning and kept in a warm locker for several hours.

Sandwich fillings suitable for freezing are meat, poultry, and cheese spreads of all kinds, egg yolk mixtures, peanut butter and other nut pastes. Fillings that don't freeze well are those with raw vegetables, hard-cooked egg whites, and fruit jellies.

Raw vegetables—celery, carrots, cabbage and others—can be put in the lunch box in the morning. Lettuce or tomatoes, wrapped in wax paper and carried in the lunch box, can be added to the sandwiches at lunch time. The frozen foods in the box act as a refrigerator to keep the vegetables crisp and cooling the lunch box itself helps to keep foods cool and fresh-tasting.

Bread is easier to spread frozen than when soft or crumbly. When the slices thaw, they have the characteristics of fresh bread. Because the best way to avoid staling of bread is to keep it frozen, many families purchase a supply for a freezer. Frozen sliced loaves are especially convenient because the slices separate readily without thawing.

Medium-Small Eggs Economical

The term "large economy size" does not apply to eggs just now. Economy in terms of eggs so far this fall has been, instead, in the medium and small sizes—and for the next few weeks it looks as if the homemaker will continue to find thrifty buys in the smaller sizes of eggs.

To compare sizes and prices of eggs, remember that according to U. S. standards the minimum weight for large eggs is 24 ounces is 24 ounces per dozen, for medium eggs 21 ounces a dozen, and for small eggs, 18 ounces a dozen. If the price spread between sizes is more than 10 cents per dozen.

In using smaller sizes of eggs, it may be necessary to convert some recipes. For example those for baked custard. When the recipe calls for 3 eggs, the number should be increased to 4 when the smaller size eggs are used. To rule is: 7 small eggs give approximately the same weight as 6 medium eggs, and 6 medium eggs give almost the same weight as 5 large eggs. Some recipes give egg amounts by the cupful, which makes the size of the individual egg immaterial.

In many dishes, too, such as omelets, scrambled eggs, etc., an "egg is an egg"—no measuring necessary.

STAIN REMOVAL FROM DARK FABRICS

Most homemakers know that it pays to move stains as promptly as possible because many become set by aging or heat. A stain on a white tablecloth generally gets prompt attention because it's so conspicuous. But the dark-colored tablecloths and dollies, now so popular, often "hide" stains until too late to remove success, fully. It pays to look these over carefully and if you spot a stain, remove it before folding the cloth away or before putting it in the regular laundry. If not of fast color, such tablecloths require laundering in lukewarm water with plenty of detergent. If the color prevents using hot enough water to remove grease stains, treat the stain in advance with a grease solvent or cleaning fluid. Greasy stains, unless removed, may show up when the article is ironed, and the heat of the iron may set the stain.

Garden Club Entertains Hubbys

Members of the Cardinal Garden Club of Birdneck Point entertained their husbands on Wednesday night with an informal picnic in the yard of Mrs. Donald Parker.

A royal period proceeded the picnic which was served from a long dimly lighted table beneath towering pine trees.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by Mr. Richard Orr, of the Orr Seed Co., Norfolk, who presented a scenic and informative program on "Seeds and Bulb Growing." He brought for the Club's enjoyment, colored slides of the formal gardens in both England and Holland which were taken on a recent trip to those countries. His trip also included a steady of bulb growing in Holland.

In addition there were sides of gardens in the Norfolk area, made during their peak spring color.

Joy Fund Begins Preparation For Christmas Season

The Virginia Beach - Princess Anne County Joy Fund has begun preparation for the 1956 Christmas Season. The Joy Fund, an organization operating during the Christmas Holidays, gives help to those who would have very little cheer at Christmas were it not for generous contributions made by local citizens and organizations. Paul B. Maestas is appointed Chairman by the Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce and William Dodson, Jr., is Co-Chairman. "We are setting the goal at $5000.00 this year," said Paul Maestas. "Because we found that we were unable to properly care for all the needy persons who were investigated during last year's Holiday." "We are hoping that other organizations who regularly conduct their own forms of Christmas Giving will join with the Joy Fund as a central group for all, and we feel that with resulting efficiency, more people may be helped at Christmas Time."

The Virginia Beach Fire Department is the receiving station for toys. For many years past the Firemen have collected and renewed toys and bicycles. These are given away to carefully screened applicants during the last few days before Christmas. We are requested to urge anyone who has used toys or a bicycle which can be repaired and wishes some well deserving child to receive it, to bring these things to the Fire Department.

The Virginia Beach Jaycees will again furnish the manpower to make the Joy Fund an active Efficient Unit. The Virginia Beach Sun-News and the Princess Anne Free Press will be collecting agencies for all donations. Weekly Box-Score will be run in each newspaper and all Donations will be acknowledged.

To give new zip to plain vegetables such as turnips, broccoli, kohlrabi, and Brussels sprouts, try a mustard and butter sauce. Use two tablespoons prepared mustard to four tablespoons melted butter.

First Smoker for Sportsmen to be Held in This Area

The first Sportsmen's Smoker to be held in this area will be staged at the Hanscom Hotel on Friday, October 27. The affair, sponsored by Ducks Unlimited, will be open to all those interested in wildfowl hunting and conservation.

A new motion picture, in sound and color, showing ducks and geese on the breeding grounds and in the flyways will be shown. There will be demonstrations of the latest firearms, and some guides from Back Bay will show they call geese. Roland Halstead, game supervisor, and a number of game wardens from this area will be at the meeting to answer questions about the upcoming wildfowl open season. The season will open on November 7. There will be free refreshments served at this meeting. There will be no admission charge. The meeting will start at 7:30 p. m.

D. Conrad Little, Virginia Chairman of Ducks Unlimited, said "This smoker is being held to interest local sportsmen in supporting the work of Ducks Unlimited. The efforts of DU in restoring the breeding grounds of the waterfowl on the Canadian Prairie provinces is largely responsible for the increase in the number of ducks we have today. All sportsmen are urged to attend this smoker."

News of Interest to Farmers

You cannot pick your Sweet Potatoes for seed stock from the bin and tell how many or what quality of potatoes they will produce, said A. Vernon Watts, Extension Vegetable Specialist, as a Hill Selection Demonstration held Friday afternoon at Mr. Alvin D. Malbone's farm near Pungo, Virginia. "Hills of Sweet Potatoes tend to produce 'like' hills of potatoes. When you select a potato to seed from the bin it may have come from a hill producing only one No. 1 potato or it could come from a hill producing six No. 1 potatoes. The only way to select your seed stock is to go into the field at digging time and select those hills that are high producing, uniform, have proper size, color, shape, and free from disease."

In starting the demonstration E. E. Cockrell, Jr., Princess Anne County Agent, pointed out that the Porto Rico variety of Sweet Potatoes is one that can be improved rather rapidly, but it is also one that will go down hill rapidly. We must be constantly improving our Sweet Potatoes if we are going to stay in business, asserted Cockrell. He said that in the past twenty-five years Princess Anne County's Sweet Potato yields have increased only approximately thirty bushels per acre. Our yields can be greatly improved by better selection of seed stock for bedding purposes, pointed out Cockrell, as he looked down at hills of Sweet Potatoes on the ground. "Farmers are already doing a good job of fertilization but we have to go farther than that," said Cockrell.

In pointing out the proper hills to select, Watts went down the hill showing them the good and bad points of each hill. He demonstrated what to look for in hill selecting seed Potatoes. First of all, the yield must be a high producing one. Select hills that have at least five or six U. S. No. 1 Sweet Potatoes. These potatoes should be uniform in size and shape. They should have a general smoothness throughout the yield. As to size, Watts pointed out that Mrs. Constanter wants a potato 6 to 8 ounces in size and not the 3 1/2 ounces or 20 ounce potato which is the minimum and maximum weights for U. S. No. 1 grade. For the Porto Rico Variety the color should be uniform reddish bronze. Another important item in hill selection is to select those hills that are ridged free of any disease such as Scurf and any of the rot.

In summing up the demonstration, Watts advised the farmers to hill select about 5 to 10 bushels of quality potatoes this fall, put them in a house and store them under the best storage conditions that they have. These 5 to 10 bushels will be bedded in the Spring of 1957 and will produce enough seed stock to produce plants enough to seed the entire 1958 crop. Watts also pointed out very strongly that you should not stop with hill selection after one year. That you should continue to do so and to hill select each fall from potatoes that were grown the previous year from hill selected stock. Watts also pointed out that cutting your sprouts will tend to decrease the amount of Scurf of about 50 percent and the cutting of sprouts can be done either of two ways. First of all, he recommended farmers pulling the plants and cutting the tips off and second, was to cut the plants off at the top of the bed.

Cockrell pointed out at the close of the demonstration, prior to refreshments served by Farmers Potato Distributing Company, that if our farmers will practice hill selection and sprout cuttings that they should be able to increase the yields tremendously and to also improve the quality of the Sweet Potato to a great extent.

Farmers in attendance at this meeting were Alvin D. Malbone, on whose farm the demonstration was held; Jack Whitehurst, Walter Menden, John Salmons, A. J. Broughton, Admiral J. E. Whelchel, Arvin McLanahan, Alvin Jones, James Key, and Cecil Managan. The Professional Workers present were Barnes Allen, Assistant County Agent, along with Vernon Watts and E. E. Cockrell, Jr.

Keep Va. Green Poster Contest Is Underway

The 5th annual KEEP VIRGINIA GREEN poster contest, sponsored by Virginia Forests, Inc., and the Virginia Building Material Association, is being used to help create more interest in the Governor's "Plant More Trees" program. The theme this year is "Trees are Useful—Plant More Trees," chosen because the sponsoring organizations believe that some of the enthusiasm of students who participate in the contest will be transmitted to their parents. If so, it is felt that many of the parents who own land will want to reforest some of that land so both trees and children can grow up together.

This annual contest, which has the support of the Virginia Division of Forestry, the V.P.I. Extension Service, the Soil Conservation Service, and the Department of Education, is now in progress and will continue through November 30. It is open to any student enrolled in the 3rd through the 12th grades, and separate prizes are available for each of the lower five grades as well as for the high school students.

Prizes total $1,000.00 in cash and awards will be made to the top 64 high school students and to 70 grade school students. The first place high school winner will receive an award of $100; and, in addition, will have his poster reproduced in full color on nearly one-half million KEEP VIRGINIA GREEN book covers which will be distributed next year. Second, third, and fourth place winners will receive lesser cash awards; but in addition will have their entries reproduced as one color posters for distribution throughout the State.

Posters must measure 14" HIGH by 11" WIDE, and should illustrate one or more of the many ways in which trees or products made from trees add to the comfort or provide the needs of our everyday life; or they should illustrate the usefulness of our forests for soil, water, and wildlife conservation.

W. T. COOKE PTA NEWS

By H. F. R. DeLamarter

Sixty mothers have been commissioned by the various classrooms as Home Room Representatives for the school term, according to Mrs. Leslie Watson, Chairman of Room Representatives for the P-T-A. Formerly referred to as "Home Room Mothers," these ladies are the actual direct connection between the school faculty and the parents. The Room Representatives are ready to summon the parents of each room to accomplish a task when notified by the teachers. Very often the room decorations are the result of the supervisory initiative of these mothers. When the P-T-A-sponsored Christmas Party takes place before the holidays, these ladies will be serving as hostesses. Occasionally the students will find one of these ladies substituting for their teacher for a short period when she is required to be away. The telephone reminders that are made before each regular monthly P-T-A meeting is done by the Room Representatives. Those serving are as follows:

First Grade: Mrs. Ralph McChesney, Mrs. Malcolm Hillman, Mrs. Chas. Ratcliffe, Mrs. T. J. Headley, Mrs. H. E. Vicks, Mrs. M. E. Woodhouse, Mrs. M. F. Duckworth, Mrs. C. L. Tillett, Mrs. Ralph J. DeMarco.

Second Grade: Mrs. J. W. Murphy, Mrs. S. M. Farley, Mrs. Bandy, Mrs. S. O. C. Knorr, Mrs. S. B. Ogden, Jr., Mrs. E. L. Clifton, Mrs. W. K. MacDonald, Mrs. E. P. Preston.

Third Grade: Mrs. R. W. Beddingfield, Mrs. Leo Michaels, Mrs. R. B. Bartels, Mrs. H. R. Lindstrom, Mrs. L. K. Krueger, Mrs. W. F. White, Mrs. J. A. Johnson, Mrs. Leslie Gore, Mrs. Robt. Barco.

Fourth Grade: Mrs. W. J. Hudgins, Mrs. Wm. Renger II, Mrs. L. M. Robison, Mrs. A. H. Vito, Mrs. R. H. Johnson, Mrs. J. E. Hancill, Mrs. J. M. Bratten, Mrs. W. B. Costenbader, Mrs. E. W. Hanson, Mrs. H. M. Sneed, Mrs. Paul de Witt, Mrs. Henry I. Palmer, Mrs. Leary.

Fifth Grade: Mrs. E. W. Smith, Mrs. C. E. Herbert, Mrs. Zein Waller, Mrs. Phil Sullivan, Mrs. J. B. Ballard, Mrs. A. M. Holland, Mrs. K. G. Hill, Mrs. J. H. Napier, Mrs. Grace Potter.

Sixth Grade: Mrs. Betty Brathwaite, Mrs. Otto Scamans, Mrs. S. T. Holcombe, Mrs. Sidney S. Kellam, Mrs. Waller L. Taylor, Mrs. H. H. Holt, Mrs. William M. Snider, Mrs. E. B. Bayne, Mrs. F. G. Jones.

The responsibilities placed on the Room Representatives puts them in a category paralleling that of the regular P-T-A officers. Were it not for the vital linkage given by them, a great deal of the parent-teacher coordination would indeed bog down. Parents are urged to give their whole-hearted cooperation to these mothers when they are called upon.

STATE CONVENTION
P-T-A President Henry announced the schedule of events for the State P-T-A Convention at the Hotel John Marshall in Richmond. The theme for the entire convention, presided over by State President Mrs. W. W. Kavanaugh, was "P-T-A—serves family, school and community." The opening address was given by the President of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, Mrs. Rollin Brown. This was followed by the first general session. On Tuesday, following the second and third general sessions was the banquet, with an address by Dr. Wm. Thompson. Wednesday's agenda called the final general session and adjournment.

Mrs. Henry will be prepared to deliver a summary of the convention business at the regular P-T-A meeting on Monday, November 5th.

MEMBERSHIP
Have you called Mrs. Simpson at Ph. 2351-W about P-T-A membership? You could wait until the night of Monday November 5th at the regular P-T-A meeting. But in all the excitement that night you may forget. Join now and get over with.

While the total attendance at the Card Party at the Community House is not yet available, Mrs. Jean Barco disclosed that the success of it depended largely on the active assistance of Mrs. O. L. Goode, Mrs. Joseph Killen and Mrs. Jack Meredith. The details and results of the party will be revealed in next week's column.

Lioness Club to Hold Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Virginia Beach Lioness Club was held October 15th at the home Martha Cassott with Alice Godsey, co-hostess. Fifteen members present.

Mrs. Mary Winder of the Norfolk and Princess Anne County T. B. Assoc. was guest speaker and asked for our support in the coming T. B. Seal drive.

Regular business was carried on after which refreshments were served.

The next meeting of the Virginia Beach Lioness Club will be held November 16th at 8:00 P.M. at the home of Joann Lail, with Terry Cook, Co-hostess.

Dr. Ira Hancock of Creeds General Practitioner of Year

Dr. Ira L. Hancock of Creeds, self-styled country doctor who frequently travels 100 miles a day on his rounds, has been chosen Virginia's "General Practitioner of the Year."

The honor was bestowed on the 48-year-old Princess Anne County physician at the annual convention of the Medical Society of Virginia in Roanoke.

Dr. Hancock, whose smiles and ready greeting are known to hundreds of persons in the county, narrowly missed receiving the honor last year. This year he was the sole nominee for the award, a departure from past two-nomination tradition of the Virginia Academy of General Practice.

In addition to attending to his private practice—in which his wife aids him as private secretary and nurse—Dr. Hancock is the first chief of staff of the General Practice Division at De Paul Hospital, formed in 1954. This post makes him responsible for the hospital's training program for new physicians and training of general practice interns. He will serve in 1957 as second vice president of the Virginia State Medical Society.

A bitter foe of socialized medicine, he made one brief entrance into the political world when he announced as a candidate for clerk of court in the county in December 1950, when a rift developed in the dominant political organization. He withdrew from the race later on advice of physicians.

His general practice, not confined to the Creeds area, has occupied his time for 23 years. For some time he has served as county jail physician.

A native of Richmond, he is married to the former Miss Mary Alice West, daughter of E. W. West, a former mayor of Newport News. They have two sons, Ira Lionel III, 21, and Richard W. Hancock, 14.

He graduated from the Medical College of Virginia and obtained

Garments made of fabrics that call for "drip drying" should be laundered carefully. When hanging these garments on the line to dry, lift them from the rise water carefully and hang smoothly, without wringing, twisting, or squeezing. Smoothing out the seam line with your fingers helps eliminate extra pressing.

VOTE

vote in the dark!

In the last national election, more than 61 million Americans went to the polls and voted—and the nation felt almost jubilant that so many people had raised such a mighty vote.

But those early Americans who gave us the right to cast a vote might not have been so jubilant—if they could have been here to see that one person out of every three who possessed that right, failed to use it.

This is government of all the people, government for all the people, and it should be government by all the people—not just two out of every three.

Above all, there is an urgent necessity for thinking voting, too.

The nation wants and needs enthusiastic voters—but wants them also to be voters who know that voting is a responsibility as well as a right; who have informed themselves about the issues, learned what the candidates stand for, studied their backgrounds and evaluated their abilities impartially.

The man who doesn't vote is like the man who "lays off from work"—and the man who votes without informing himself is like the man who shows up for work, but has no training for the job.

Between now and November 6, inform yourself as best you can.

Then go confidently to your polls and vote.

Vote—but don't vote in the dark!
